

SMALL WEIGHT NO TROUBLE

Odds Fail to Hinder Tots

Three Pottstown area youngsters — who at birth weighed no more than one average baby — have developed into healthy robust specimens.

The children — one of whom is the smallest baby ever born in Pottstown that lived — weighed in at a total of eight pounds, three and three-quarter ounces.

The smallest is Peter Onifrek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Onifrek, 111 North Warren street.

He weighed in on Aug. 16, 1950, at two pounds, two and three quarter ounces.

Today he's a husky blond lad who went through the first three years of his young life by escaping all normal kids' illnesses except the measles.

THE OTHER miniature babies are David and Diane Weil, twins of Mr. and Mrs. William Weil, Boyertown RD 1.

David tipped the scales at a featherweight two pounds ten ounces. His little sister managed to hit three pounds seven ounces.

They were born on June 3, 1950.

Today, all three youngsters are in top shape. The only one who suffered any affliction from the tiny start they made in life was Diane Weil.

"She was born without sight in the right eye," her mother said last night.

An incubator called an "isolette" played the big part in saving the lives of the three youngsters.

Fortunately, the "isolette" had been donated to Memorial hospital only a few days before the Weil twins were born.

The incubator allows nurses to handle babies without disturbing the temperature, oxygen, humidity, and other atmospheric conditions inside the chamber.

It was donated to the hospital by the Inter-Community auxiliary, a group of women from Spring City and Royersford.

MRS. ONIFREK, who has one other child, a daughter Josephine, aged four, said that her baby had to stay in the hospital for three and a half months before she could take him home.

"He was in the isolette for about two and a half months," she said.

Tiny Peter gave everybody a big scare shortly after he saw the light of day.

Two days after he was born he dropped to one pound, 11 ounces.

"When I took him home after three and a half months," his mother said, "he still only weighed less than seven pounds."

He had to have special care once he got home — special room, constant temperature, etc.

"But now he's a big toughie," his mother said. "Everybody says he'll grow up to be a football player."

He had the measles in 1951, which made him very sick, but except for that bout with illness, he's been in perfect health.

MRS. WEIL also told a story of a fine recovery for her two children.

The girl packs the most weight now, 32 pounds. David weighs 29 pounds.

Diane was the first to leave the hospital, almost two months after the birthday.

David stayed in another three weeks.

Both gained weight normally from the time they were brought home, the mother said.

Mrs. Weil, who had seven children before the twins were born, gave birth to another daughter, Judy, who was a year old the past February.

For three youngsters who started out life with tremendous odds against them — over ten to one — the three Pottstown area youngsters have turned into fine specimens.

This was Peter Onifrek a few days after birth on Aug. 16, 1950, when he weighed in at two pounds two and three quarter ounces. Today, he's husky and planning to be a football player.

You'd never know to look at them now but these twins of Mr. and Mrs. William Weil, Boyertown RD 1, weighed a total of six pounds one ounce between them at birth.

But that was three years ago and though their chances for survival were pretty slim they've grown up to be fine healthy youngsters.

Pennsburg Man, Wife Hospitalized After Crash

MISHAP TAKES PLACE IN BUCKS COUNTY

A Pennsburg man was injured seriously and his wife badly shaken up when their light sedan left the road and crashed into several trees near Finland, Bucks county, last night.

William J. Koppenhaver, 47, of Fourth and Dotts street, Pennsburg, is in University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, with injuries of the chest.

His wife, Helen, 39, is in Sellersville hospital suffering from shock and possible internal injuries.

The couple was driving along Finland - Ridge Valley road about 9 p. m. when their late-model car careened off the pavement and into the wooded roadside.

Quakertown State police, who investigated, said that the car was damaged extensively.

RESIDENTS OF the accident scene summoned Perkasie ambulance when they heard the crash, and the couple was rushed to Sellersville hospital. They arrived there at 10 p. m.

Hospital attendants decided to remove the husband to the Philadelphia hospital for specialized treatment of broken ribs and other possible injuries of the chest.

He was taken to Philadelphia by the Perkasie ambulance.

Koppenhaver's condition was described early this morning by hospital attendants as "fair," that of his wife, "good."

The Koppenhaver's were thought to be traveling from Sellersville to Pennsburg at the time of the crash. Police said that the cause of the accident has not been determined.

ENROLMENT UP AT C-T SCHOOL

Figures Show Increase of 2 Pupils

School enrolment at Collegeville Trappe joint school district has increased by two pupils over the past year.

Members of the joint board last night studied grade-by-grade figures supplied by Supervising Principal Howard B. Keyser.

It was pointed out the slight increase is deceiving because the joint high school lost a number of Upper Providence township pupils by transfer to Norristown.

Elsewhere enrolment figures continued to increase, thus balancing the loss to Norristown.

Attendance in Collegeville elementary school showed: First grade, 26; Second grade, 22; Third grade, 21; Fourth grade, 21; Fifth grade, 18; and Sixth grade, 26. Elementary attendance in Trappe was listed: First grade, 23; Second grade, 7; Third grade, 9; Fourth grade, 9; Fifth grade, 13; and Sixth grade, 6.

Joint Junior-Senior High school attendance showed: Seventh grade, 39; Eighth grade, 50; Ninth grade, 73; Tenth grade, 72; Eleventh grade, 58; and Twelfth grade, 57.

The board authorized the attendance of Keyser and Louis A. Krug, high school principal, at the educational conference in Harrisburg on next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mary E. Rosciola, mathematics teacher and year book adviser, was authorized to attend a meeting of the Columbia Scholastic Press association next month.

Joint Board Secretary R. D. Sturgis will attend the State School Directors convention in Harrisburg Oct. 12 and 13.

At a meeting of the Collegeville board after the joint session, a payment of $11,800 was authorized to the joint board. The board also approved the payment of an $8900 note plus interest to the Collegeville National bank.

Catholic Church to Open Series of Novenas Today

The tenth annual series of Novenas to St. Theresa will begin at St. Peter's Catholic church tonight. Services will be held nightly at 7:30 o'clock for the next nine days, until Oct. 1945, serving as a general staff nurse, head nurse, night supervisor and other special assignments.

Local Policewoman Launches Campaign Against Hot-Rodders

A Pottstown policewoman has opened a one-woman crackdown on local hot-rodgers.

Mrs. Minerva Bachman got the ball rolling yesterday when she made one alleged hot-rod pull over to the side and report to police officers.

"It's a shame the way they drive," she said. "Somebody's got to clamp down on them. I'm putting my foot down."

She started the drive yesterday when she saw a youth "hot-rod" as he had a license, "Mrs. Bachman said. "But if I ever catch him hot-rod again I certainly will press charges."

MRS. BACHMAN made it clear

While she went to make the call, however, the youth slipped out of the car. Police arrived and found the car empty. They had it towed to a local garage.

"The youth told me that he didn't have a license," she said. Police found the youth later, however, and wrote on their report that the youth did have a license but that he had lost his driver's card.

"I won't press charges as long as he had a license," Mrs. Bachman said. "But if I ever catch him hot-rod again I certainly will press charges."

MRS. BACHMAN made it clear that while she's on duty she'll continue to crackdown on hot-rodgers.

"I give them one warning and that's all. I catch them a second time, into the station they go."

"This hot-rodging is getting to be a habit," she said. "These kids are taking the law into their own hands. I'll stop any of them. I don't care who it is. One is no better than the other."

"We make these arrests," she said, "and try to do right for the kids' sake but nobody wants to help us. If it keeps up that way I'll push every one of these cases myself."

Mrs. Bachman's campaign coincides with the campaign being waged by Chester county police.

All of Chester county realized the terrific menace of hot-rodgers.

It was so great that chiefs of police from almost every community in the county met with the district attorney to map out a campaign to clamp down on the youthful law-breakers.

So far no campaign has been started by local police, except for Mrs. Bachman's announced crackdown.

Police Chief James Laughead could not be reached last night for a comment on whether he would back the policewoman's drive.

Route 100 Job, Span Put Under Scrutiny

A close look at the new four-lane Schuylkill bridge and relocated Route 100 was afforded yesterday at a Public Utility commission hearing in Montgomery county court-house, Norristown.

As predicted, there was no opposition to the proposal from the Pennsylvania county railroads, Philadelphia Electric company, Montgomery county or the borough of Pottstown.

A PUC hearing was held because the PUC has jurisdiction over railroad grade crossings, and two grade crossings will be built for the new highway.

The PUC will rule finally on the State Department of Highways' application after testimony of the hearing has been sent it by yesterday's examiner, Calvin Spitzler.

The past Aug. 30, William F. Lamb Sr., chairman of the Schuylkill river bridge committee, announced that Gov. John S. Fine had given written assurance that State funds for the long-planned work definitely will be provided.

Lamb also predicted then that no opposition would be encountered at yesterday's hearing and that contracts would be let about Nov. 1.

RELEASING new facts about the bridge and relocated highway yesterday was Edwin S. Smith, grade crossing engineer for the highway department, whose testimony took up most of the two-hour hearing.

Smith said he believed the whole project would be completed in 28 months after the starting date, and that there would be no detours needed during construction because the existing Route 100 can remain open.

The system of bridges and ramps over the Schuylkill and railroad tracks is expected to cost the State $1,129,113, Smith estimated.

Federal funds are expected to pay part of the cost of building but not maintaining the project.

There will be two 24-foot-wide lanes on each side of a four-foot dividing strip, he said, and the roadway will have ten-foot shoulders.

The roadway will have a three-inch blacktop surface, over a nine-inch base.

THE RELOCATED Route 100—to be called Route 779—will begin to the south of Pottstown at a point 2.9 miles north of Pughtown. The northern end of the relocation will be at Legislative Route 46002 (Old State road), 850 feet north of the borough line.

The whole project will be called "the Pottstown bypass," he noted. There will be interchanges at Routes 83 and 422. In addition there will be four steel girder bridges, Smith reported:

1. An 815-foot bridge over the Schuylkill.

2. An 128-foot bridge over the Pennsy tracks.

3. A 452½-foot bridge over the Reading tracks.

4. A 601-foot bridge carrying a ramp from Route 422 to the bridge over the Reading tracks.

Smith estimated that 9300 motor vehicles a day will use the bypass and that 3145 will use the ramp to Route 422. In ten years, he estimated, there will be 10,800 vehicles using the bypass, and 3700 of them using the ramp.

The State has estimated that it will spend $170,000 for damage to property made necessary by the work.

The State will pay for altering or relocating property of utilities that is on private property but will not

Pottstown Hospital's Lucille Munzer Resigns Post as Director of Nurses

Elizabeth J. Sweeney has been appointed director of nurses at Pottstown hospital, it was announced yesterday.

Miss Sweeney, who has served as an educational director and assistant director of nurses since the past Aug. 1, will replace Lucille B. Munzer as director.

The hospital board of trustees accepted Miss Munzer's resignation yesterday.

Prior to being named assistant director at the hospital, Miss Sweeney had been employed as an instructor in the nursing school from Feb. 16, 1949, to June, 1950.

She is a graduate of the nursing school of Abington Memorial hospital. She entered the Army Nurse corps in May, 1941, and served until Oct. 1945, serving as a general staff nurse, head nurse, night supervisor and other special assignments.

After release from military service, she re-entered the school of education of the University of Pennsylvania and received her Bachelor of Science degree in June, 1948.

Frost—No Foolin' Follows Fall's Area Appearance

Autumn seemed like a close relative of Old Man Winter to Pottstown area residents yesterday morning.

Meadows and rooftops were white with frost in the misty light of dawn, and icy windshields greeted more than one early-bird motorist.

One area farmer's fields were "browned off" by an extra heavy frost in his locality.

Carl Kolle, Harmonyville, reported that it was the second frost out his way this season, and the first to do some damage.

"It was enough to make things a little dark around the edges," he said. "Not enough to really kill 'em, though."

KOLLE, the Pottstown area's premier frost observer, called it the earliest frost he's seen in his six years on the farm.

He said his tomatoes and his wives' flowers were hit the hardest by the frost.

Among residents who found ice on automobile windows yesterday morning were William C. Miller and Samuel Wampole.

Miller, who lives at 327 South Hanover street, South Pottstown, said there was "frost and frozen dew" on his car windows when he came out of the house at 7:30 o'clock.

"I had the car parked in the rear of the house during the night, and the sun hadn't hit it yet," he explained.

He said there was light frost on South Pottstown rooftops and thick fog in the low open places when he first looked outside.

"I took a look out the bedroom window at neighbor Joseph Haas' sheep pasture and it was blanketed with fog," he recalled.

WAMPOLE, who lives at 661 Water street, was working the early morning shift at a West High street service station, near the bridge, when he discovered how cold it was.

"The thermometer here at the station showed only 44 degrees at 6:45 o'clock," he related. "Then a

Hilldale Razing Bids Still Await US Action

Hilldale's population is decreasing steadily, but Montgomery County Housing authority still has received no word from the Government on when bids will be let for demolition of 18 buildings that the Government ordered emptied for demolition.

This was reported yesterday by Edmund J. Koser, the authority's executive secretary, who added that he expected the Public Housing administration to announce advertising for bids "any time now."

There now are 57 families in Hilldale, compared with the 70 there less than two months ago, and with the nearly 300 there during the "temporary" project's wartime peak.

Farmers, Hunters Scanning Skies For Needed Rain

They called the man who saw dust in the creek bottom goofy, but friend have you looked at the fields and pastures around Pottstown lately?

If you have, you have seen brown.

Dusty veterans of the field have to roll back the calendar many seasons to remember a similar Summer.

The soil is hard and cracked from the soaking Spring rains and the parching sun of July, and August.

Farmers in all directions from Pottstown are crying for rain. They have pounded their equipment overtime to break cloddy fields, and now they are waiting to sow Fall crops.

Hurting for rain are Fall apples and late potatoes.

For those who rely on the dug well to produce drinking water, this has been a tough Summer indeed.

It has been a Summer which has many farmers investigating the merits of irrigation.

NOW THAT FALL IS with us, hunters are watching the skies with apprehension. They remember the devastating drought of October and November a year ago, and they're wondering if this hunting season will be abbreviated.

A year ago Gov. John Fine cut the small game season to protect the fields and forests against fire.

District Forester Paul Felton, Audubon, of the State Department of Forests and Waters, said last night, "There is no immediate danger for fires, but we should have rain in the next several weeks."

"The normal fire season begins Oct. 15. Beginning on that date we will maintain our lookouts at Hopewell, Cornwall and Mt. Penn. If we don't get rain in another week fire conditions may become prevalent."

Local Policewoman Launches Campaign Against Hot-Rodders

All of Chester county realized the terrific menace of hot-rodgers. It was so great that chiefs of police from almost every community in the county met with the district attorney to map out a campaign to clamp down on the youthful law-breakers.

So far no campaign has been started by local police, except for Mrs. Bachman's announced crackdown.

Police Chief James Laughead could not be reached last night for a comment on whether he would back the policewoman's drive.

Route 100 Job, Span Put Under Scrutiny

A close look at the new four-lane Schuylkill bridge and relocated Route 100 was afforded yesterday at a Public Utility commission hearing in Montgomery county court-house, Norristown.

As predicted, there was no opposition to the proposal from the Pennsylvania or Reading company railroads, Philadelphia Electric company, Montgomery county or the borough of Pottstown.

A PUC hearing was held because the PUC has jurisdiction over railroad grade crossings, and two grade crossings will be built for the new highway.

The PUC will rule finally on the State Department of Highways' application after testimony of the hearing has been sent it by yesterday's examiner, Calvin Spitzler.

The past Aug. 30, William F. Lamb Sr., chairman of the Schuylkill river bridge committee, announced that Gov. John S. Fine had given written assurance that State funds for the long-planned work definitely will be provided.

Lamb also predicted then that no opposition would be encountered

at yesterday's hearing and that contracts would be let about Nov. 1.

RELEASING new facts about the bridge and relocated highway yesterday was Edwin S. Smith, grade crossing engineer for the highway department, whose testimony took up most of the two-hour hearing.

Smith said he believed the whole project would be completed in 28 months after the starting date, and that there would be no detours needed during construction because the existing Route 100 can remain open.

The system of bridges and ramps over the Schuylkill and railroad tracks is expected to cost the State $1,129,113, Smith estimated.

Federal funds are expected to pay part of the cost of building but not maintaining the project.

There will be two 24-foot-wide lanes on each side of a four-foot dividing strip, he said, and the roadway will have ten-foot shoulders.

The roadway will have a three-inch blacktop surface, over a nine-inch base.

THE RELOCATED Route 100— to be called Route 779—will begin to the south of Pottstown at a point 2.9 miles north of Pughtown. The northern end of the relocation will be at Legislative Route 46002 (Old State road), 850 feet north of the borough line.

The whole project will be called "the Pottstown bypass," he noted.

There will be interchanges at Routes 83 and 422. In addition there will be four steel girder bridges, Smith reported:

1. An 815-foot bridge over the Schuylkill.
2. An 128-foot bridge over the Pennys tracks.
3. A 452 1/2-foot bridge over the Reading tracks.
4. A 601-foot bridge carrying a ramp from Route 422 to the bridge over the Reading tracks.

Smith estimated that 9300 motor vehicles a day will use the bypass and that 3145 will use the ramp to Route 422. In ten years, he estimated, there will be 10,800 vehicles using the bypass, and 3700 of them using the ramp.

The State has estimated that it will spend $170,000 for damage to property made necessary by the work.

The State will pay for altering or relocating property of utilities that is on private property but will not

Frost—No Foolin' Follows Fall's Area Appearance

Autumn seemed like a close relative of Old Man Winter to Pottstown area residents yesterday morning.

Meadows and rooftops were white with frost in the misty light of dawn, and icy windshields greeted more than one early-bird motorist.

One area farmer's fields were "browned off" by an extra heavy frost in his locality.

Carl Kolle, Harmonyville, reported that it was the second frost out his way this season, and the first to do some damage.

"It was enough to make things a little dark around the edges," he said. "Not enough to really kill 'em, though."

KOLLE, the Pottstown area's premier frost observer, called it the earliest frost he's seen in his six years on the farm.

He said his tomatoes and his wives' flowers were hit the hardest by the frost.

Among residents who found ice on automobile windows yesterday morning were William C. Miller and Samuel Wampole.

Miller, who lives at 327 South Hanover street, South Pottstown, said there was "frost and frozen dew" on his car windows when he came out of the house at 7:30 o'clock.

"I had the car parked in the rear of the house during the night, and the sun hadn't hit it yet," he explained.

He said there was light frost on South Pottstown rooftops and thick fog in the low open places when he first looked outside.

"I took a look out the bedroom window at neighbor Joseph Haas' sheep pasture and it was blanketed with fog," he recalled.

WAMPOLE, who lives at 661 Water street, was working the early morning shift at a West High street service station, near the bridge, when he discovered how cold it was.

"The thermometer here at the station showed only 44 degrees at 6:45 o'clock," he related. "Then a

Farmers, Hunters Scanning Skies For Needed Rain

They called the man who saw dust in the creek bottom goofy, but friend have you looked at the fields and pastures around Pottstown lately?

If you have, you have seen brown.

Dusty veterans of the field have to roll back the calendar many seasons to remember a similar Summer.

The soil is hard and cracked from the soaking Spring rains and the parching sun of July, and August.

Farmers in all directions from Pottstown are crying for rain. They have pounded their equipment overtime to break cloddy fields, and now they are waiting to sow Fall crops.

Hurting for rain are Fall apples and late potatoes.

For those who rely on the dug well to produce drinking water, this has been a tough Summer indeed.

It has been a Summer which has many farmers investigating the merits of irrigation.

NOW THAT FALL IS with us, hunters are watching the skies with apprehension. They remember the devastating drought of October and November a year ago, and they're wondering if this hunting season will be abbreviated.

A year ago Gov. John Fine cut the small game season to protect the fields and forests against fire.

District Forester Paul Felton, Audubon, of the State Department of Forests and Waters, said last night, "There is no immediate danger for fires, but we should have rain in the next several weeks."

All things, said an ancient saw, may be hoped for by a man as long as he lives.—Michael Eyquem de Montaigne.

All Is Confusion

JOHN F. Stamm, the wise and veteran Pottstown civic leader, made a sagacious suggestion to the Minute Men the other day.

"We ought to have every business place and every dwelling display its street number prominently," he said.

The venerable Mr. Stamm probably sought no bouquets for wisdom when he made that suggestion, for the same thought had been expressed many times before by many Pottstowners. But the hint is worth a bow in the direction of Mr. Stamm.

The number situation is frightful. It's not too tough on ancient Pottstowners, who pretty well knew where everybody lived until this community began to grow so fast that it burst at the seams in the past few years. But it's a nightmare to newcomers and to deliverymen. They're always in a dither.

We're convinced at The Mercury that Mr. Stamm has made a move in the right direction. But we fear he hasn't taken in enough ground.

Maybe the Minute Men should start getting numbers on every house. Then let them begin working on some reforms The Mercury suggested here years and years ago.

For instance, Pottstown should have some dividing streets to segregate the east from the west, the north from the south, and to make house-numbering easier.

Let someone come forward please, and tell where West High street starts. Where is East High street? Why do Pottstowners just say (and write) 456 Charlotte street? Is there a South Charlotte?

There is utmost confusion in numbering of homes on such streets as West High or West Chestnut.

Where is the dividing line? If it's Manatavny creek why isn't it designated?

Further, why couldn't Pottstown have its house numbering rearranged according to blocks?

For instance, if High street is the north-south dividing line, then the first block north, from High to King, should have numbers from 1 to 99. The second block, King to Chestnut, from 100 to 199; from Chestnut to Walnut, 200 to 299, and so forth.

This would eliminate a terrible headache because the homes now are numbered consecutively. No delivery man can tell where 468 North Franklin is.

Under a properly numbered system, it should be between Beech and Lincoln. But it really is halfway between Oak and West!

No. 1000 North Charlotte is not 10 blocks north of High. No, it's 17 blocks!

Surely, all is confusion.

There's plenty of room for reform. Maybe the start is to get numbers on every house—and then begin the bigger job of revamping the whole system!

Tattered Laundry

THE following little item is reprinted from Time magazine: "Now that Malenkov himself has criticized the shoddiness of Soviet consumer goods, Pravda is washing some of the tattered laundry out in public, complains that Soviet rayon underwear does not survive a single laundering, that men's shirts fall apart in the tub."

In past times similar official criticisms of Soviet production and distribution agencies have appeared, and have usually proved a prelude to wholesale liquidations of managers and technicians who somehow fell out of favor with the powers-that-be. But what is significant to us Americans is the character of the system that makes manufacture and sale of such shoddy goods possible.

The answer, of course, is found in the nature of communism and socialism. The state owns practically everything—including all of the factories and the vast majority of retail outlets. There is no competition as we understand the word. If the consumer doesn't like what he is offered, or thinks the price excessive, he has the privilege of doing without and going cold or hungry.

Contrast that with conditions in the United States. Every manufacturer is in direct competition with other manufacturers, and all are trying to sell the public on their trademarks. Every store from the biggest chain to the smallest independent is competing with other stores for consumer patronage. The result is the best deal for our money that the cost of carrying on business will permit.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS, September 24.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where Lavrenty Beria, ex-Soviet secret police chief, is said to have escaped from Russia. If so, it proves the Kremlin crowd isn't as quick on the trigger as it used to be!

A news story says Beria would like to come to the US and "tell all." Wal, he sure would be certain of an attentive audience!

And say: Should the ex-top Red cap reveal Kremlin secrets could he rightly be referred to as a hero of good—or bad—fightings?

Hopin' you air the same.

READERS SAY:

Burgess' Failings Cited; Union Leaders Flayed

He Indicts the Burgess

To the Editor: I have seen in my life many incompetent men in high places. But never can I remember a public servant so inept as Burgess William A. Griffith.

He is indeed William the Delayer. I doubt if Pottstown in all its long and colored history has known a man so capable of double-talking the public.

I doubt if Pottstown ever has had an official who has done so little for the people he represents.

Yet, in spite of his deficiencies Burgess Griffith managed to smile and corny-promise his way through an untidy heap of sidetracked plans.

The total impact of any official's laxities never are fully felt by contemporaries. Many of Griffith's failings will go on to haunt Pottstown in future years.

Like a tired, plodding, outdated mule driver the Burgess has ploughed on. And in a small sense the gullible and at times disinterested citizens of this community have contributed to his waning stay in power.

The morale of our police department is shattered.

We have no civil defense director. We haven't had a police physician for five years.

The Burgess has tried to block the passage of every measure for the relief of our broken and dangerous streets. Here he has failed.

I ask for no indictment, no retribution for the man who heads our borough. I ask only that every thinking Pottstown voter, Democrat and Republican, turn him out of office in the November election.

Pottstown MAN OF WISDOM

WASHINGTON
Warning of Hard Times Discounted by Analysis

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Economic bears now warn of hard times ahead because of a slight increase in the number of business bankruptcies and the current weakness of the Wall Street market.

Responding to these conventional alarms, they believe that the bottom is beginning to fall out of the 12-year-old boom. By all the ordinary signs, they should be right.

But Washington's detailed analysis of both movements does not bear out the worst of these fears.

Although showing a slight gain, the number, kind and losses involved in voluntary or involuntary foreclosings follow the pattern of recent, prosperous years. Few large firms have been affected.

INEXPERIENCED INVESTORS: Moreover, many sure-to-fail companies were organized during the lush wartime and postwar period. Inexperienced people thought they saw a chance to get rich quick.

Marginal enterprises, especially in the mining, and manufacturing fields, were started, only to go broke when Government orders and aid were withdrawn. Thousands of ill-advised GI's used Bill of Rights loans to gamble without sufficient know-how or reserves.

Now that business conditions are returning to normal, with a buyers' replacing a sellers' market in every line from steel to soda pop, the bankruptcy figures merely reflect the inevitable shake-down.

The same phenomenon has been observed after previous cycles of war and wild investing.

WALL STREET NO BAROMETER: As to Wall Street, it is no longer the sensitive economic barometer that it used to be.

In view of a more cautious dividend policy and resultant accumulation of reserves, corporations are financing expansion with their own funds or by bond issues rather than by the sale of common or preferred stock.

They once obtained 90 percent of new money from stock issues and only 10 percent from bond sales. Now it is one-third from stock and two-thirds from bonds.

Thus, Wall Street's gyrations do not frighten President Eisenhower and Secretary Humphrey as they panicked Coolidge, Hoover and Mellon.

BANKRUPTCY FIGURES: If business bankruptcies continue at the present rate of about 700 a month, the 1953 total will be about 8400. The figure may be slightly lower, for fewer failures usually occur in the last quarter. March seems to be the most fatal month.

But the number closing up in this way was 7611 in 1952 and 8058 in 1951, the year after the Korean invasion stimulated an economic upturn. Moreover, the amount of liabilities and employment involved will be about the same.

Again, as usual, the current failures are occurring in the highly speculative fields of mining, retail and wholesale trade, which normally account for 80 percent of the total.

The other major graveyards are construction and the service trades. Too many people, obviously, fancied themselves as builders, barbers, hairdressers, automobile repairmen, etc.

Burgess' Failings Cited; Union Leaders Flayed

Raps Union Leaders

To the Editor: When are the laborers of this town and this nation going to realize where their so-called leaders are leading them?

One man, a union boss, comes in and tells Americans they are on strike, and they go on strike.

If they finally get their demands, they work three years to pay off the debts raised during the strike.

And we are paying billions to combat communism!

If someone were to tell these same workers to be sure to attend church every Sunday, they would become indignant and stand on their rights to freedom of religion.

Yet they follow the orders of men who could not earn an honest day's living if they were thrown out of the union protection.

This union business is starting to get out of hand and the workers should be the first to know it. Labor united against a laborable management.

When will they use the brains and rights which Americans are credited as having, and unite against idiotic leadership, if it can be called even that?

Pottstown A DISGUSTED WORKER

Raps Attitude

To the Editor: Not only is Boyertown High school overcrowded, some of those teachers are getting too smart.

Why make a pupil take five laps around the track because he has no locker?

It was bad enough when parents had no money to buy gym clothes and the pupils had to suffer.

Or making pupils who have ruptures carry heavy cement blocks. Let the teachers try doing some good old-fashioned work themselves instead of just pushing a pencil.

Come to me I'll tell you more.

Building Unsafe

To the Editor: I was much interested in your correspondent's letter regarding conditions in the Boyertown High school, and what was said is only too true. I could add numerous similar conditions.

With the great overcrowding, the building is not safe from a fire hazard, standpoint.

How can State inspectors close their eyes to such conditions?

Kitchen equipment is inadequate and it is practically impossible to feed all the students in the 30-minute period allowed for lunch.

It appears to me that the State forced this upon the districts involved before adequate preparations were made.

Would it not have been better to hold off the jointure for a year or two until the necessary new buildings have been erected?

Boyertown READER

Non-Sticking Oil

To the Editor: I'm glad the town's street-oiling program is finished.

It finished just about the time I was thinking of asking the borough manager to come back to my house to square me with my wife.

Boy, did I catch holy Ned for dragging oil into the house! I got it all over the garage, too. I had an awful time trying to explain that I didn't travel over every oiled street in town just to get dirty!

Couldn't some inventor dream up an oil that didn't stick to cars?

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TERRY P. has been married for 15 years.

"Dr. Crane, Terry, was always very stingy," his attractive wife informed me.

"And he was usually cross and fault finding, too. He seemed to take delight in finding something wrong with my housekeeping or my cooking."

"Instead of paying me compliments, he never failed to deliver at least two or three criticisms every day."

"I was so discouraged and unhappy that I actually was wondering if a divorce would be the final outcome."

"But I hated to think of such a thing, especially since we have two children."

"Then I read your account of another stingy husband. You said that stinginess is often due to a man's feeling of sexual inferiority."

"That didn't make sense to me at the time. But I re-read that case record several times."

"FOR YOU said that when a husband is afraid he cannot dominate his wife's love, he tries to keep her in financial subjection."

"Well, I realized that my husband had accused me of being frigid on many occasions."

"And during the early years of our marriage, he would even grow jealous and give me a cross-examination about previous boy friends whom I had dated before I met him."

"So I decided, as one last attempt to effect a happy home before I tried divorce, that I would test your advice."

"So I wrote you a letter in care of our Los Angeles News and ordered a couple of your sex bulletins."

"AS SOON as I had finished reading them, I knew that we certainly weren't following the technique that was described as essential for happy couples."

"Well, that was three months ago. Within the first week after I changed my attitude, my husband began to treat me better."

"And before a month had passed, he would come into the kitchen when he returned home from work, and kiss me."

"Besides, he quit being stingy. Now, after just three months, he turns his entire pay check over to me each week! Imagine that!"

"We love each other more now than ever in our 15 years of marriage. And our children have also noticed the marked difference in the home atmosphere."

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Sidney Kingsley about a role in his new comedy.

Glamor girl Dorian Leigh—New York's most photographed model for the past couple of years—made the cover of a national magazine a few months ago with a story quoting her as saying she "liked babies better than minks."

She must have found something she likes better than babies in Paris; her own three children, by two different husbands, haven't seen her since she took off for Europe early this Summer.

GINGER ROGERS may make her TV debut via ABC if plans go through for the big Thanksgiving Day telecast of the "Ziegfeld Follies."

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1953

All things, said an ancient saw, may be hoped for by a man as long as he lives.—Michael Eyquem de Montaigne.

All Is Confusion

JOHN F. Stamm, the wise and veteran Pottstown civic leader, made a sagacious suggestion to the Minute Men the other day.

"We ought to have every business place and every dwelling display its street number prominently," he said.

The venerable Mr. Stamm probably sought no bouquets for wisdom when he made that suggestion, for the same thought had been expressed many times before by many Pottstowners. But the hint is worth a bow in the direction of Mr. Stamm.

The number situation is frightful. It's not too tough on ancient Pottstowners, who pretty well knew where everybody lived until this community began to grow so fast that it burst at the seams in the past few years. But it's a nightmare to newcomers and to delivery-men. They're always in a dither.

We're convinced at The Mercury that Mr.
Stamm has made a move in the right direction.
But we fear he hasn't taken in enough ground.

Maybe the Minute Men should start getting numbers on every house. Then let them begin working on some reforms.
The Mercury suggested here years and years ago.

For instance, Pottstown should have some dividing streets to segregate the east from the west, the north from the south, and to make house-numbering easier.

Let someone come forward please,
and tell where West High street starts.
Where is East High street? Why do Pott-stowners just say (and write) 456 Charlotte street? Is there a South Charlotte?

There is utmost confusion in numbering of homes on such streets as West High or West Chestnut.

Where is the dividing line? If it's Manatawny creek why isn't it designated?

Further, why couldn't Pottstown have its house numbering rearranged according to blocks?

For instance, if High street is the north-south dividing line, then the first block north, from High to King, should have numbers from 1 to 99. The second block, King to Chestnut, from 100 to 199; from Chestnut to Walnut, 200 to 299, and so forth.

This would eliminate a terrible headache because the homes now are numbered consecutively. No delivery man can tell where 468 North Franklin is.

Under a properly numbered system, it should be between Beech and Lincoln. But it really is halfway between Oak and West!

No, 1000 North Charlotte is not 10 blocks north of High. No, it's 17 blocks!

Surely, all is confusion.

There's plenty of room for reform. Maybe the start is to get numbers on every house —and then begin the bigger job of revamping the whole system!

Tattered Laundry

THE following little item is reprinted from Time magazine: "Now that Malenkov himself has criticized the shoddiness of Soviet consumer goods, Pravda is washing some of the tattered laundry out in public, complains that Soviet rayon underwear does not survive a single laundering, that men's shirts fall apart in the tub."

In past times similar official criticisms of Soviet production and distribution agencies have appeared, and have usually proved a prelude to wholesale liquidations of managers and technicians who somehow fell out of favor with the powers-that-be. But what is significant to us Americans is the character of the system that makes manufacture and sale of such shoddy goods possible.

The answer, of course, is found in the nature of communism and socialism. The state owns practically everything—including all of the factories and the vast majority of retail outlets. There is no competition as we understand the word. If the consumer doesn't like what he is offered, or thinks the price excessive, he has the privilege of doing without and going cold or hungry.

Contrast that with conditions in the United States. Every manufacturer is in direct competition with other manufacturers, and all are trying to sell the public on their trademarks. Every store from the biggest chain to the smallest independent is competing with other stores for consumer patronage. The result is the best deal for our money that the cost of carrying on business will permit.

Burgess' Failings Cited; Union Leaders Flayed

He Indicts the Burgess

To the Editor: I have seen in my life many incompetent men in high places. But never can I remember a public servant so inept as Burgess William A. Griffith.

He is indeed William the Delayer. I doubt if Pottstown in all its long and colored history has known a man so capable of double-talking the public.

I doubt if Pottstown ever has had an official who has done so little for the people he represents.

Yet, in spite of his deficiencies Burgess Griffith managed to smile and corny-promise his way through an un-tidy heap of sidetracked plans.

The total impact of any official's laxities never are fully felt by contemporaries. Many of Griffith's failings will go on to haunt Pottstown in future years.

Like a tired, plodding, outdated mule driver the Burgess has ploughed on.
And in a small sense the gullible and at times disinterested citizens of this community have contributed to his waning stay in power.

The morale of our police department is shattered.

We have no civil defense director.
We haven't had a police physician for five years.

The Burgess has tried to block the passage of every measure for the relief of our broken and dangerous streets.
Here he has failed.

I ask for no indictment, no retribution for the man who heads our borough.
I ask only that every thinking Pottstown voter, Democrat and Republican, turn him out of office in the November election.

Raps Union Leaders

To the Editor: When are the laborers of this town and this nation going to realize where their so-called leaders are leading them?

One man, a union boss, comes in and tells Americans they are on strike, and they go on strike.

If they finally get their demands, they work three years to pay off the debts raised during the strike.

And we are paying billions to combat communism!

If someone were to tell these same workers to be sure to attend church every Sunday, they would become indignant and stand on their rights to freedom of religion.

Yet they follow the orders of men who could not earn an honest day's living if they were thrown out of the union protection.

This union business is starting to get out of hand and the workers should be the first to know it. Labor united against dishonorable management.

When will they use the brains and rights which Americans are credited as having, and unite against idiotic leadership, if it can be called even that?

Raps Attitude

To the Editor: Not only is Boyertown High school overcrowded, some of those teachers are getting too smart.

Why make a pupil take five laps around the track because he has no locker?

It was bad enough when parents had no money to buy gym clothes and the pupils had to suffer.

Or making pupils who have ruptures carry heavy cement blocks. Let the teachers try doing some good old-fashioned work themselves instead of just pushing a pencil.

Come to me I'll tell you more.

Building Unsafe

To the Editor: I was much interested in your correspondent's letter regarding conditions in the Boyertown High school, and what was said is only too true. I could add numerous similar conditions.

With the great overcrowding, the building is not safe from a fire hazard standpoint.

How can State inspectors close their eyes to such conditions?

Kitchen equipment is inadequate and it is practically impossible to feed all the students in the 30-minute period allowed for lunch.

It appears to me that the State forced this upon the districts involved before adequate preparations were made.

Would it not have been better to hold off the jointure for a year or two until the necessary new buildings have been erected?

Boyertown READER

Non-Sticking Oil

To the Editor: I'm glad the town's street-oiling program is finished.

It finished just about the time I was thinking of asking the borough manager to come back to my house to square me with my wife.

Boy, did I catch hold of Ned for dragging oil into the house! I got it all over the garage, too. I had an awful time trying to explain that I didn't travel over every oiled street in town just to get dirty!

Couldn't some inventor dream up an oil that didn't stick to cars?

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TERRY P. has been married for 15 years.

"Dr. Crane, Terry, was always very stingy," his attractive wife informed me.
"And he was usually cross and fault finding, too. He seemed to take delight in finding something wrong with my housekeeping or my cooking."

"Instead of paying me compliments, he never failed to deliver at least two or three criticisms every day.

"I was so discouraged and unhappy that I actually was wondering if a divorce would be the final outcome.

"But I hated to think of such a thing, especially since we have two children.

"Then I read your account of another stingy husband. You said that stinginess is often due to a man's feeling of sexual inferiority.

"That didn't make sense to me at the time. But I re-read that case record several times.

"FOR YOU said that when a husband is afraid he cannot dominate his wife's love, he tries to keep her in financial subjection.

"Well, I realized that my husband had accused me of being frigid on many occasions.

"And during the early years of our marriage, he would even grow jealous and give me a cross-examination about previous boy friends whom I had dated before I met him.

"So I decided, as one last attempt to effect a happy home before I tried divorce, that I would test your advice.

"So I wrote you a letter in care of our Los Angeles News and ordered a couple of your sex bulletins.

"AS SOON as I had finished reading them, I knew that they certainly weren't following the technique that was described as essential for happy couples.

"Well, that was three months ago.
Within the first week after I changed my attitude, my husband began to treat me better.

"And before a month had passed, he would come into the kitchen when he returned home from work, and kiss me.

"Besides, he quit being stingy. Now, after just three months, he turns his entire pay check over to me each week!
Imagine that!

"We love each other more now than ever in our 15 years of marriage. And our children have also noticed the marked difference in the home atmosphere."

★ KEEP THE GRASS OFF—Byron H.
"Peter" Hunsberger, Pottstown lunche-nette proprietor, produced some humorous sidelights on high school education in Pottstown in 1892, as seen through the eyes of his father, Byron K. Hunsberger, who was graduated from the high school in that year. The father noted that the front entrance of the new high school was used only by the superintendent, W. W. Rupert, and the other two high school teachers. The older Hunsberger continued, "There was a grass plot in front which the janitor, Mr. Frederick carefully guarded, and he warned the boys repeatedly, 'You keep the grass off, I tell you!' Violators were dragged off and roughly handled."

THE HIGH SCHOOL was opened to pupils the first school day of 1892, the older Hunsberger recalled, and his class was the first to be graduated from this building. "We were proud of this building," he noted,
"and often loitered after school until nearly dark." When he was in his senior year, the eighth grade teacher, WALTON Y. FRYER, became ill. Supt. Rupert assigned Hunsberger to teach the class until a substitute was obtained. This was Hunsberger's first teaching assignment. He was a teacher for more than 50 years after he left Pottstown high, and now is head of a private school in Norristown. The high school building from which he was graduated was entirely destroyed by fire in 1933.

★ LEAVER—A streamlined Bert Seawell left Pottstown yesterday for his new job as administrator of the Butler hospital, and, but for a few hours he'll spend here this weekend, he said goodbye to this community. Seawell, who resigned several months ago, slimmed down 18 pounds by going on a strict diet because he thought he was getting a little too heavy and was putting too much strain on his heart. His example might set the pace for some other heavy persons. Here seven years, Seawell will be succeeded by Edwin H. Prescott, of Williamsport, as administrator. Seawell paid glowing compliments to his friends here who feted him and Mrs. Seawell prior to their departure. The Minute Men gave him a diamond-studded wrist watch, hospital employees gifted him with a traveling case, and other farewell gifts helped load the moving van!

★ OFF TO CONFER—Four Pottstown veterans of the 79th Division will attend the 34th reunion of the 316th Infantry association at the Americas Hotel in Allentown tomorrow. This outfit meets annually on the Saturday closest to September 25, the date in 1918 when this regiment opened their knock-out offensive and blazed away at German lines in France from dusk to dawn to capture an important town in the Malancourt area — Montfaucon in World War I.
Those attending are Russell F. Feather, Clair G. Haag, I. Leroy Johnson and Oliver H. Kline.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE NEW EASE of travel has brought us closer to many countries and peoples, thus adding to our pleasure. But it has also brought closer what was once called an insidious disease of the tropical climes, leprosy.

Leprosy is common in many areas of the world now within a few hours of the United States by airplane travel. These areas include parts of the West Indies, Central and South America, and even some of the far southern states of this country.

It has been estimated that there are between 1000 and 2000 cases of leprosy within the United States alone.

The manner in which a person gets leprosy is unknown, but it is known to be caused by a bacteria known as Hansen's bacillus. It takes long association with an infected person in order to acquire the disease which sometimes takes as long as ten to 20 years to develop.

‘FLYING HIGH’ IS STAGED BY TRAPPE GROUP

Cast Is Composed Of Area Talent

TRAPPE—Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Cor. Phone Collegeville 5806. George Clarke Jr. and John E. Hartman Jr., Del. Phone Collegeville 7576.

The production, “Flying High” sponsored by the Ladies auxiliary of the Trappe Fire company was well received in the community.

The cast, composed of local talent, gave a fine performance with Virginia Clark and Gunnar Rambo Jr. substituting at the last moment for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zollers who were unable to participate due to circumstances. A “schoolhouse” skit with Mrs. George Clark Jr. as the teacher and Mr. and Mrs. William Youngblood, Mrs. Dorothy Leftwich, Harry Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Arnold Jr., Virginia Clark and Gunnar Rambo Jr. as the pupils added a hilarious note.

Added features were a dance number by Kenneth and Craig Baker; an instrumental duet by Bill and Dick Wells; a dance number by Joyce and Leslie Wilson; baton twirling by Diana Rosser; a tap number by Terry Haraczka and a circus skit with fifty elementary children participating.

The door prizes, presented by Russell Moyer, were won by Francis Tadley and by Mrs. Howard Parker on the second evening.

Fire chief, Gunnar Rambo, crowned the winner in the baby contest as follows: Dony DeVane, king; Merrienne Mollier, queen, each receiving $5; Gary Staurowsky, duke; Diane Vernacchio, duchess; Clarence LeRoy Milligan, count and Patti Ann Haraczka, countess, each receiving $2.50.

Proceeds from the production will be deposited to the engine fund of the fire company. Mrs. Reginald Hayes served as general chairman; Mrs. William Youngblood, ticket chairman, assisted by Mrs. George Clark Sr. and Mrs. William Koffel; Mrs. Walter Cressman, chairman of the baby contest; Mrs. Ray Ziegler as publicity chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Lynch. Mrs. Martin Arnold Jr. in charge of casting; George Clark Sr., stage property; Marvin Zollers in charge of lighting; Ed Mathieu and John Clark, props.

Mr. and Mrs. William Youngblood entertained 35 persons who participated in the fire company’s production at their home following the final performance.

Dairy Diet Reduces 15 Council Members

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—The board of directors of the National Dairy council stepped on the scales today to see what a three-months diet stressing whole milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, fish, poultry and meat did to their waistlines.

The 15 overweight members lost an average of 10.7 pounds while the 25 of normal weight held about even.

The 40 directors volunteered as guinea pigs the past June. The idea was to demonstrate that overweight persons can lose weight on a moderately large high protein, moderately high fat, low carbohydrate diet featuring dairy products.

They also suspected the impression that dairy foods are fattening has contributed to surpluses of milk and milk products that are plaguing the industry.

SCOUT LEADERS HEAR REPORTS ON ACTIVITIES

Firestone Sponsored Units Plan Expanded Program

Approximately 40 Scout leaders, Boy Scouts and interested persons attended a meeting for Scouting leaders of all Firestone-sponsored units last night in the former personnel building on the Firestone plant grounds.

The attending group heard various committee chairmen, Scoutmasters and Cubmasters, and Boy Scouts report on phases of Scout work done during the past year. All of the reports showed progress and growth by all the Scout units, Cub dens and packs, Scout troops and Sea Scout group, and included plans which will be carried out in the coming year.

Highlighting the evening were talks by E. T. Handley, plant manager of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company and representing the sponsoring institution; W. B. Hubbell, executive secretary, Valley Forge council, Boy Scouts of America, Philadelphia; Waverly H. Kiehl, chairman of the board of judges for the Harvey S. Firestone Jr. award and the Firestone Certificate of Merit, who explained the various awards, and Richard Dutcher, district executive.

Proof of the expansion of the Firestone Scouting family was the announcement of the beginning of a new Scout troop in the Sanatoga area, and the organization of three Cub dens in the same area.

THE REPORT for the Cub dens and pack was given by Earl Moyer and Carl Heffner, committee chairman and cubmaster. Alfred B. Miles Jr., committee chairman, and Edward Benkoski, scoutmaster, gave the Troop 19 report.

Henry Newman, committee chairman, and Skipper Irvin Shellenberger gave the Sea Scout report.

Forrest Ginder, new committee chairman for the newly organized Scout troop in Sanatoga, gave a brief report.

The four boys who attended the 1953 Boy Scout Jamboree in California from Firestone-sponsored troops reported on the trip. They were: Forrest Ginder Jr., Harry Quay, Robert Newman and Roland Morris.

Daniel Brey led the salute to the flag at the beginning of the meeting and Edward Johnson closed the meeting with the blowing of taps. Both boys are from Firestone Troop 19.

D. E. Story, public relations, was in charge of the meeting.

Exhibits from the various troops and dens were displayed and refreshments were served following the meeting.

Army engineers and cavalry played an important part in surveying the route of the Union Pacific, first transcontinental railroad.

Ministers Introduced At Dinner Meeting

TRAPPE—Mr. Donald Yerkes, Corr. phone Collegeville 5805, George Clarke Jr. and John E. Hartman Jr., Del. phone Collegeville 1576.

The officers of the Norristown conference of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania of the Lutheran church invited the pastors of the conference and their wives for a "get-together" dinner meeting at the Moorehead restaurant, the purpose of which was to introduce the ministers who have recently joined the ministerium from the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

The Rev. E. L. Angstadt, of Summerville, served as chairman of the meeting which opened with prayer by Dr. George Drach, of Trappe. Dr. Charles Cooper, the new president of the ministerium, gave an address in which he outlined the policies he hopes to pursue during his administration. A response was given by the Rev. Atkinson, chaplain at the Eastern penitentiary in Graterford.

The Rev. Kenneth J. Sharp, new pastor at Augustus Lutheran church in Trappe and Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. S. Louis Cornish, who accompanied her father, Dr. George Drach, were present at the meeting.

Vigilant Patrolmen Halt Adlai Stevenson

PONTIAC, Ill., Sept. 24 (AP)—Two State policemen patrolling US Highway 66, halted a new sedan yesterday because it had no license plates.

The driver, who was alone, explained he had just purchased the auto and had applied for plates. He commended the officers, T. D. McNamara and D. L. McKinney, for vigilance.

PONTIAC, Ill., Sept. 24 (AP)—Two State policemen patrolling US Highway 66, halted a new sedan yesterday because it had no license plates.

The driver, who was alone, explained he had just purchased the auto and had applied for plates. He commended the officers, T. D. McNamara and D. L. McKinney, for vigilance.

Exposition Moves Into Second Day in New England

As the gigantic livestock exposition at Springfield, Mass. moves into its second day, two North Coventry High school boys and their instructors are adding much to knowledge as well as taking part in the show.

Karl Buchholtz, a Junior at the school, will be one of two Pennsylvanians who will form a team in the poultry judgments, while Richard Moyer, a Sophomore, will fill in as alternate on the team.

The boys, together with Neal R. Burtner, Norco agricultural teacher, left Pottstown Wednesday morning to make the long trip to Springfield.

Mrs. Harry A. Moyer, mother of Richard Moyer, said last night that she had not heard from the trio since they left but she felt that they are doing well.

Both Moyer and Buchholtz earned the right to attend the exposition when they placed fourth and fifth respectively in State-wide Future Farmer of America contests at Penn State college the past June.

ABC Group Hears Talk On Mining Operations

A pinch-hit speaker filled the bill at last night's meeting of the American Business club which was held at the Elks home.

Robert Petes, chief mining engineer for the Bethlehem Steel company, was the guest speaker in place of S. J. Shale, manager of the Bethlehem Cornwall corporation.

His talk centered on the mining operations at the corporation's new Grace mine project.

Vice President Joe L. Bowen presided.

Church Sewing Group Holds All-Day Session

GLEN MOORE—Mrs. Francis Hogan, corr. Del. Edwin Kurtz, Phone Pottstown 3271-W.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hogan and daughters Judy, Linda and Nancy attended the Reading fair. Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. J. Walter Davis were Mrs. Howard Abel, of West Chester, and Mrs. Anna Lessig, Downingtown.

The Ladies of Fairview Presbyterian church held the regular monthly all-day sewing at the church recently. The ladies brought a lunch for the noon hour.

Local Optimists Travel To Testimonial Banquet

A delegation of local Optimists traveled to Philadelphia last night to attend a district testimonial banquet for Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Reiling.

Dr. Reiling, who is the Optimist international president, was entertained at Palumbo's restaurant in Philadelphia.

Aside from a full-course dinner, members also witnessed a floor show and took part in the evening's fun and dancing.

AOPA Sees Movies, Hears Talk on Outing

Last night was one night that members of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots association were glad they stayed on the ground.

For they were the guests of James Moore at his cottage in Fagleyville where there was plenty of food and refreshments topped with the ever present "gab sessions."

Several films were shown and Chairman Alvin Renninger delivered a talk on the National AOPA outing at Rehoboth beach, Del., Sept. 11-13.

Since 1945 the number of grain combines in the South has nearly tripled.

counties and Lower Berks and Lower Lehigh counties.

FOR FARMER Wilbert Maynard, Upper Providence township, near Trappe, the drought has had a particularly dusty wallop.

For the past three weeks his dug well has been dry. "Water for drinking purposes and for Maynard's two cows has been hauled from neighboring wells in milk cans."

But Maynard is one of the few farmers smitten by the drought.

Alan T. Wright Jr., Royersford

RD 1, agriculture graduate of Penn State college theorized on the drought's relation to wells.

He explained, "This dry spell hasn't been too tough on good wells. The shallow dug wells are usually hit anyway."

"Actually our rainfall for the season is about normal or slightly above normal. What has made this drought doubly harmful is the uneven distribution of rain."

"We had all the rain in the Spring, and then during the hot drying weather there was no precipitation. That's why this drought came on so rapidly and hit so severely."

"Wells haven't been hit too hard because it's the winter snows and ains which store water underground."

Ad Murray, Pottstown RD 2, said emphatically, "We need rain. We can't plant Fall crops without rain. Right now I'm filling silos and I can honestly report the corn isn't too bad."

Clarence Hedrick, Royersford RD 1, said, "I've worked my soil or wheat and if it doesn't rain in a few days I'll plant anyway."

Both Hedrick and Murray reported frost yesterday morning.

They agreed the dehydrated conditions minimized the impact of frost.

Streams and creeks have receded in shriveled beds.

If the weatherman has a science there will be some changes.

Rotary Club Speaker Supports Amendment

"The development of creeping international Socialism" was discussed last night at the Rotary club's dinner meeting held at the Elks home.

Guest speaker was Walter Knerr, executive secretary of the Montgomery County Manufacturer's association, who told Rotary members that the one way Americans can keep Socialism away from our shores is to support the Bricker amendment.

The Bricker amendment, according to the speaker, provides that no law or treaty shall be enacted in the US except by the due process of law.

President Charles Rohland presided, and Warren Delong led group singing. Gordon Astheimer introduced the speaker.

Drainage work and the grading and paving of highway approaches also will be taken care of by the State, Smith concluded.

FREDERICK C. Peters, chairman of the county commissioners, said the county has no objection to the plans because no county facilities are involved in it. The same position was taken by Horace B. Gulden, Pottstown borough manager. They also said the county and borough do not agree to pay any damages involved in the work.

Gulden added that the borough will pay for putting in necessary curbs or sidewalks on West High street or West King street.

The railroads and Philadelphia Electric company spokesmen said they had no objections but would not pay for rearranging their equipment during construction.

Runaway Truck Tips After Brakes Fail

A milk truck in charge of Stewart Betterly, Royersford, turned over on the outskirts of Spring City after running away yesterday morning about 7:15 o'clock.

The driver said the brakes on the truck apparently failed to hold as the vehicle was parked on Latschaw road, between Heller and Pennhurst roads.

Rolling forward, the truck turned over on its side and broke many bottles of milk. Damage to the truck was light.

'Honest Accounting' of 3400 Allied Men Demanded of Reds by UN Commander

MUNSAN, Friday, Sept. 25 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark demanded anew last night that the Reds either return immediately more than 3400 Allied men missing in the Korean war or produce an "honest accounting" of what happened to them.

23 'CONVERTS' LISTED BY REDS

Pennsylvania Mother Doesn't Believe It's True

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Communists yesterday made public the names of 23 US prisoners they said refused to go home where "those who speak out for peace and freedom are rapidly being silenced."

The quotation was from a statement, purportedly signed by all 23, handed out by a Communist correspondent at Panmunjom.

The statement quoted them as saying they still loved America and hoped to return some day but for now felt they could best work for peace behind the Bamboo Curtain.

A quick flood of reaction in the United States from anguished relatives of men named on the list was one of almost unanimous disbelief. "He would absolutely have to be mentally deranged," said the father of one man.

Corp. Albert C. Belhomme, 26-year-old American GI who made his home in Ashland after coming to the United States from Belgium, was the lone Pennsylvanian listed as having refused repatriation but his mother said "I don't think it's true."

Mrs. Marcella Belhomme Seifert, who married an American soldier in her native Belgium during World War II after her first husband died, said "I find it hard to believe that Albert has decided not to return home."

Mrs. Seifert and her son came to this country in 1946, and three years later Albert joined the Army. He was reported missing in action in Korea on Nov. 25, 1950 and a year later news was disclosed "that he was a war prisoner."

"In all his letters he indicated he was anxious to go out with mom and dad again for some good times," Mrs. Seifert said in quoting a letter from her son from prison camp.

Belhomme applied for US citizenship two months after coming to this country, but he had not received his final papers at the time of his Army induction. His mother is a citizen.

EMPLOYEES BAR AFL
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24 (AP)—Employees of the Ruel H. Smith Enterprises, Titusville, voted against AFL International Association of Machinists as a collective bargaining agent. The vote in the National Labor Relations board election yesterday was 167-59.

Simultaneously, the UN Command raised the total of Americans on the list from 944 to 958.

The UN Far East commander made it clear in a letter handed to the Reds at Panmunjom that his demands included US air men held without prisoner of war classification because the Communists insist their planes crashed in "neutral" Manchuria.

Clark bluntly rejected as "wholly unacceptable" the Reds' reply Monday to his original demand Sept. 9 for an accounting. That Red answer was to the effect that most of the men listed never had been captured and that others died, escaped or were released at the front.

Also on the list were the names of 23 Americans who were turned over yesterday by the Reds to Indian custody in the demilitarized zone.

No information was released after the secret session as to what took place. Vice President Nixon, one of the 26 participants, commented in reply to questions that meetings of the council are "always completely confidential." The extraordinary nature of the session was attested by the fact that more than twice the usual number attended.

Of primary concern, obviously, was Russia's position in the atomic arms race, and America's ability to unleash retaliatory action if the Soviet Union should start war with hydrogen bombs.

But it was the amazing progress in development of H-bombs for the American arsenal that stirred alarm.

Nuclear scientists are on the track of methods for making and exploding hydrogen weapons so simplified and so relatively cheap that any nation with a moderate military budget may be able to manufacture them well within the next decade.

Among other things, the American bomb makers are working on a technique for "triggering" the mighty hydrogen bomb without using the unearthly heat of a standard fission bomb to set off the atomic fusion process of hydrogen.

Until recently, the popular supposition was that unless a nation already possessed fission bombs there would be no way to detonate the hydrogen fusion bomb with the million or more degree heat supposedly required for creating the explosion.

The reward for the delivery of MIGs has been withdrawn "during this period of armistice discussions." This seemed to indicate it would be reinstated if hostilities were resumed, although there was no official statement to this effect.

Pentagon sources suggested the armistice also entered into the offer to return the MIG surrendered in South Korea.

IKE HUDDLES WITH AIDES ON H-BOMB RACE

Threat of Weapon Becomes More Acute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The dread hydrogen bomb may turn out to be so cheap and simple that almost any nation can produce an arsenal of them in a few short years.

That word seeped out today as President Eisenhower met in a prolonged, three-hour session with his National Security Council, the commanders and civilian chiefs of the Armed forces, and a committee of advisers on defense of the North American Continent.

No information was released after the secret session as to what took place. Vice President Nixon, one of the 26 participants, commented in reply to questions that meetings of the council are "always completely confidential." The extraordinary nature of the session was attested by the fact that more than twice the usual number attended.

British Minister of State Urges Russia To Negotiate Issues One at a Time

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Britain's Selwyn Lloyd said today he is cautiously optimistic about what he called a welcome improvement in Soviet policy since Premier Stalin died. He urged the Russians to maintain this slightly relaxed policy and settle East-West issues one by one.

The British minister of state said in a policy statement to the UN Assembly that the Soviet Union could start with settlements on Korea, Germany, Austria and disarmament. He also said there must be an end to the war in Indochina, but did not definitely link Moscow to it.

He called on the Assembly to show leadership and said he personally believed "there is a real hope of further progress in the next 12 months."

At the same time, Lloyd said that until it is determined that the Communist and non-Communist nations can live peacefully side by side it would be the "height of folly for the countries of the Free World immediately to cast aside their defenses or to relax their efforts to maintain their strength."

LLOYD THUS lined up beside US Secretary of State Dulles in urging the Russians to negotiate on one issue at a time.

He also went back to the policy laid down by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to the sixth UN Assembly in Paris in 1951, when Eden urged the Russians to negotiate on definite and limited problems such as Germany and Austria.

Lloyd said Soviet Premier Malenkov had stated as recently as Aug. 8 that there could be peaceful co-existence of the systems, Communist and non-Communist but that Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky seemed in his speech to the assembly the past Monday to be in conflict with Malenkov.

He called on Vishinsky, who was not in the hall at the time, to get away from the old "stereotyped language of abuse."

School for Saboteurs Forgets Lesson Four
TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 24 (AP)—Five men and a woman who ran a correspondence school for Communist saboteurs are in jail, perhaps because they paid insufficient attention to Lesson 4.

Tehran police raiders nabbed them yesterday while they were wrapping bundles of pamphlets giving detailed instructions on:

1—How to obtain explosives; 2—Where to buy weapons; 3—Sabotage techniques; 4—How to escape from a house surrounded by security forces.

Secretary Tells Delegates Unions Help Expose Soviet Myth

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today free worker organizations "help mightily in the quest for peace" by exposing the Communist "workers paradise" as a myth.

The AFL's annual convention gave Dulles an enthusiastic ovation after he praised the AFL for having "done more than any other single body" to picture, save conditions, behind the Iron Curtain.

"In this matter," Dulles said, "there should be closer co-operation between us. You have not always received the official support and backing you deserve."

The warm reception given Dulles was in marked contrast to the restrained and polite applause delegates gave to Vice President Nixon yesterday. Nixon denied President Eisenhower had broken a promise, as some AFL leaders claim, to support union-wanted changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The contrast underlined the AFL's whole-hearted support of Administration foreign policies but bitter opposition to many of the Administration's domestic programs.

Dulles received perhaps his greatest applause from delegates when he said this country's foreign policy can best succeed when supported by the American people generally and by both political parties.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 24 (AP)—Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes were married today in a three-minute ceremony that looked more like a Hollywood press conference than a wedding.

The bride's two little daughters, Rebecca, 8, and the Princess Yasmine, 3½, sat on a divan while their mother and Haymes went through the ceremony in a hotel. The children kept turning their heads from the photographers back to the wedding ceremony almost as though watching a tennis match.

The wedding, staged by a press agent as if it were a scene out of one of Miss Hayworth's movies, was an hour late. This was due in part to the bride's nervousness in getting dressed and to the judge's tardiness because of a jury trial he was conducting downtown.

It was the fourth marriage for each. Haymes obtained a Nevada decree only yesterday from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes. She won a California decree the past week. Rita was divorced from Moslem Prince Aly Khan in Reno the past January.

Rita, smiling radiantly and looking beautiful as a movie queen should, went calmly through the ceremony until she answered with the traditional, "I do." Then big tears came to her eyes and she started fidgeting.

THE CEREMONY was so brief it was over before the double ring part of the rite could be accomplished. Haymes got the ring on Rita's finger during the three-minute span, but after the wedding was over, Hotelman Jack Entratter fished out the ring that Rita was supposed to put on Haymes' finger. So she put it on anyway.

As the wedding party entered the ceremony room, newsreel cameramen's bright lights lit up the place like a movie set. They proceeded to a microphone where the judge was waiting. The ceremony started when the press agent gave the judge the signal.

Rita wore a short-sleeved blue linen dress that she had worn many times before, and a toast-colored tulle and velvet hat. She wore gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Haymes wore a blue pin-stripe suit and blue tie.

US WITHDRAWS $50,000 OFFER

Also Proposes to Return MIG to Rightful Owner

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The price of Russia's renowned jet fighter, the MIG 15, fell from $50,000 to zero on the American market today.

Gen. Mark Clark's Far East command announced withdrawal of its offer to pay $50,000 to any Red Pilot who delivers a Russian-built jet into the hands of United Nations forces in Korea.

At the same time the United States offered to return to its "rightful owner" the MIG 15 flown to an American air base in South Korea the past week by a young North Korean pilot.

Some officials here said the enemy aircraft was an old type from which American aviation experts could learn very little. It is known that the Communists have developed an advanced model jet known as the MIG 17.

The reward for the delivery of MIGs has been withdrawn "during this period of armistice discussions." This seemed to indicate it would be reinstated if hostilities were resumed, although there was no official statement to this effect. Pentagon sources suggested the armistice also entered into the offer to return the MIG surrendered in South Korea.

British Ship Posts No Laughing Order After Oil Incident

ABOARD THE BRITISH BATTLESHIP VANGUARD, Sept. 24 (AP)—Seamen aboard this mighty British battleship were ordered today not to laugh when oil hoses break during refueling operations.

The penalty is a listing on the ship commander's report, which is not good and may lead to extra mopping duty.

Especially, when the black sticky oil splatters over high officers.

In heavy seas last night, a British tanker came alongside and fastened two rubber hoses to the Vanguard. One broke as the two ships keeled over in opposite directions.

Oil showered over the Vanguard's decks and gun turrets. Visiting officers standing on the quarter-deck watching were splattered on their gold braid and white shirts.

A number of enlisted men were seen laughing heartily. This resulted in the no-laughter notice being posted on the ship's bulletin board.

The decks were an unsightly mess and particularly embarrassing since the Vanguard will be undergoing international scrutiny during Operation Mariner, biggest Naval war games ever staged by the nine NATO nations.

Seamen today worked to clear away the mess. They were not laughing.

Rita, smiling radiantly and looking beautiful as a movie queen should, went calmly through the ceremony until she answered with the traditional, "I do." Then big tears came to her eyes and she started fidgeting.

THE CEREMONY was so brief it was over before the double ring part of the rite could be accomplished. Haymes got the ring on Rita's finger during the three-minute span, but after the wedding was over, Hotelman Jack Entratter fished out the ring that Rita was supposed to put on Haymes' finger. So she put it on anyway.

Haymes wore a blue pin-stripe suit and blue tie.

St. Michael's Church Scene of Nuptial Mass Uniting Mary Kay Rettew and Robert Spack

MARRIED at a nuptial mass in Mont Clare, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spack pause a moment for the photographer. The Rev. Paul L. Shogan performed the double ring ceremony.

Married in St. Michael's church, Mont Clare, recently, were Mary Kay Rettew and Robert Stephen Spack. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rettew, 1407 Cherry lane. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Spack, 220 Buchanan street, Phoenixville. The Rev. Paul L. Shogan performed the nuptial mass and double ring ceremony in a background of palms, gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums. Music was presented by the choir of St. John's Greek Catholic church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white tulle over satin. The tulle bodice, fashioned with an off-shoulder neckline and tapered sleeves, was enhanced with lace and sequins. The tulle over satin skirt was appliqued with rosettes and sprinkled with sequins, and extended into a fan shaped train. A half-hat of tulle held her four-tiered veil. A pearl necklace, gift from the groom, was her only jewelry. She carried a tulle-covered prayerbook with a white orchid, lilies of the valley and streamers. A blue velvet and tulle gown was the choice of the maid of honor, Bertha Zawoski. She wore a velvet jacket over the strapless bodice, and tiers of pale and deep blue tulle formed the skirt. Bridesmaids for the ceremony were Joan Wolfe, Ethel Freese, and Theresa Keltz, a cousin of the bride. Their gowns were similar to that selected by the honor attendant, but in one shade of blue only. They all wore headpieces of interwoven blue velvet and silver with short face veils. Their ensembles were completed with blue tulle gloves, bouquets of white carnations with blue-ribboned leaves and pearl necklaces, gifts from the bride. Kathleen Labik, a niece of the groom, acted as flower girl in a dress of white nylon worn over a blue underskirt. She carried a blue carnation bouquet and wore matching flowers in her hair. Robert Balough served as best man for his cousin.

Ushers for the ceremony were Vincent Rettew Jr., the bride's brother, Frank Carfagno and Albert Benyo. Mrs. Rettew wore a pink suit with blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Spack chose a dark blue taffeta dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held for the bridal party and immediate family members at the Spack home. Four hundred guests were received at a reception in the Slovak American Citizen club at 5 p. m. The bride wore a gray wool suit with black accessories and her bridal orchid to leave on their wedding trip to New York. Mrs. Spack was graduated from Pottstown High school the past June. She is employed in the offices of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation. The groom was graduated from the Phoenixville High school in 1948 and is employed as an electrician at the Phoenix Iron and Steel company.

Performing the duties of the best man was Andrew Bugay. Ronald Harak, a cousin of the groom, was the usher.

Joseph Gymbor accompanied Katherine Gontkovsky, who sang, "Ave Marie," and "Panis Angelicus."

Following the ceremony the bridal party received guests in the Sokol Hall.

Elaine Kurtz, Pottstown Graduate, And Richard Gruber Exchange Vows

A wedding of local interest took place the past Saturday when Elaine Marie Kurtz, daughter of Henry and the late Anna Kurtz, Pottstown, became the bride of Richard Joseph Gruber. The wedding was performed by the Rev. Francis Adolf in St. Mary's Catholic church, Kutztown.

The bride had been residing at 1534 Fayette avenue, Kenhorst. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gruber, 235 West Arch street, Fleetwood.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace over gossamer satin with molded bodice and illusion neckline.

She carried a white prayer book covered with Chantilly lace and topped with white carnations and stephanolis.

A nylon net stole, mitts and a matching lace picture hat completed her outfit. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of carnations and pompons.

Elizabeth Kurtz, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her gown was navy green, identical with that of the matron of honor.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of navy organza over navy and white print. Navy accents and a corsage of white carnations were her accessories.

Performing the duties of the best man was Andrew Bugay. Ronald Harak, a cousin of the groom, was the usher.

'Flying-Up' Exercises Give New Status To Seven Brownies of St. James Church

Wings, signifying the flight from Brownie status to Girl Scouts, were pinned on the shoulders of seven girls at flying up exercises held this week in St. James Lutheran church.

Mrs. Kenneth Christman, assisted by Mrs. George Fox, conducted the ceremony for Ann Jameson, Marsha Shultz, Tunisia Fox, Wendy Corbin, Carol Glavis, Carol Chizman and Judy Gehris.

The history of Juliet Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, was told by Mrs. Harry Lord. Mrs. Low was inspired in this work during her married life in England when she learned about the Girl Scouts.

In 1919 there were 32,000 scouts; today there are over a million in this country.

Games and songs completed the meeting.

Tomato Peeling Quick, Easy and Very Clever

There are two efficient ways to peel tomatoes when you want to use them in a salad, sauce, casserole or other dish. One is to dip the tomatoes into boiling water for about a minute, then dip at once into cold water before removing the skin with a small sharp knife. The other is to run a fork into a tomato, hold it under cold water to wet it, then rotate it over the flame of your range until the skin bursts; dip into cold water immediately and peel.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE FATHER OF THE BRIDE was taking things rather hard (it was his only daughter, and the apple of his eye) when a friend cheered him visibly by whispering, "Forget that you're losing a daughter, old man, and just remember that you're gaining a bathroom."

To a male contestant on the West Coast TV program, "Bachelor Haven," Zsa Zsa Gabor once sneered, "Where would you boys be if we girls weren't on deck to sew buttons on your pants?" The contestant popped back, "If it wasn't for you dames, us boys wouldn't have to wear pants."

Observing the gyrations of a sensational new motion picture star, her agent sighed, "Like I said, she has an hour glass figure—but maybe there's too much sand in the bottom of the glass"

Sedan Is Wrecked In Tangle With Truck

An Obelisk man's 1937 sedan was wrecked in a collision with a tractor trailer on Route 663 in New Hanover, it was reported yesterday by Jeffersonville State police. Carl W. Reinbauer, 26, Obelisk, was driving north on the two-lane highway, Wednesday night, when his car collided with the truck driven by George W. Frankford, 32, Lishon, Ohio.

The truck had an estimated $500 damage. The car was listed as a total ($100) loss. Also damaged by the accident was $100 worth of wooden fence along the road.

Troopers John Flannery and Raymond Miller investigated.

Things look quiet at this home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Shaner at 961 North Hills boulevard, but Shaner has plenty of work underway in fixing up the yard.

Yesterday alone, he spread 40 wheelbarrows of topsoil in the back yard. They moved into the house, built by Philadelphia contractors, the past July 19. That's their 16-month-old son, Paul "Scotty" Shaner out front.

On the one floor is a living room, 17½ by 13 feet; a big kitchen; three bedrooms and bath.

There's a half basement and a storage attic. Shaner is employed by Bethlehem Steel company.

The U. S. Geological Survey now uses helicopters to map glacier-strewn Alaskan terrain that formerly took days to cover on foot.

Late Drives by Upper Merion Beat Trojans

BEDELL RUNS 75 YARDS

By ED TAGGERT

A 12-point Pottstown High lead crumpled within the short space of three minutes last night as Upper Merion cracked the Trojan defense wide open for a 20-12 win.

The sudden collapse came midway in the third period when the Spartans unleashed a two-touchdown attack to gain a two-point lead as the final stanza got underway. The Merions added a fourth-quarter TD and then halted a Trojan drive inside their own five shortly before the final whistle.

The Franklin field crowd of 3500 was treated to some brisk running and surprise defensive work by the Trojans. In the second period Flip Smoyer bucked over from the two for Pottstown's first score, and with less than a minute to play in the same quarter, Howie Bedell zipped through the line for a 75-yard TD run.

The third quarter was more than half finished before the Spartans found themselves. Led by the clever ball handling and running of Tom Toth, UM made the most of Pottstown errors to start the landslide.

The Trojans tried for a first down on the Spartans 29 but Smoyer was stopped a couple of yards short. The Spartans took over and in five lightning like thrusts had their first touchdown. On a third down and at their own 31, Toth was grabbed by a Trojan tackler back on his 25. But he managed to throw the ball back another five yards to fullback Bull Hendren and that burly Spartan ripped up the middle and then down the left sideline to Pottstown's 35 before Jim Porter collared him.

THE SPARTANS were penalized back to their own 47 on the play but it didn't slow them down. The only pass that the visitors clocked on came next as Toth reached Dick Nippif with a 39-yard aerial. On the next play, Toth started to his left and cut back sharply through a host of Trojan tacklers to blast through the final 15 yards for the score. Bill Hanley kicked the point and the Trojans' margin was cut to five points.

After the kickoff the Trojans had a fourth down coming up and needed a few inches to make a first down on their own 47. On a fake kick, Jim Kirk was unable to get a lateral off and was dropped four yards back and UM took over.

The Spartans were redhot as Toth held the ball on an option play and belted through for ten yards. Otis Anderson, the visitors' best ground gainer, ran around left end down to Pottstown's 11. Hendren toured the other end for the TD as the Trojans failed to get him when he took the pitchout from Toth deep behind the line of scrimmage.

Somewhat running by Howie Bedell in the fourth was wasted but helped build his net running total to 168 yards, the exact amount picked up by the four Merion ball carriers.

resulted from a fumble by Wils Bedell on a punt. Actually he barely nipped the ball as he tried a difficult catch of a high kick. The Merions recovered on the Pottstown 43 and in six plays had a six-pointer with Douglass Scott going over on a cross buck from the five.

Pottstown outplayed the Spartans in every department in the first half. The Trojans picked up four first downs in the opening quarter on some nice running by Howie Bedell and Clark Burns.

But it wasn't until the second period was half over that they could get a drive going. Bedell ran back a punt 15 yards to the Merion 40 to open the gates. Bill Kerr bulled down to the 34 and then Bedell and Flip Smoyer carried it the rest of the way.

It took Smoyer three cracks at the line inside the five to get the TD. Tom Troutman's try for the point was blocked.

Bedell's 75-yard jaunt was the big play of the night for the Trojans. He took a handoff from Josh Sova and went through the left side of the line. He swerved back to his right as he found a lane that closed up behind him and he sped through. Once in the open he was unable to shake off Nippif who dogged his trail the final 50 yards. Howie veered back and forth and the Spartan end wasn't able to make a tackling bid although only three or four yards to the rear all the way.

The loss gives the Trojans of Coach Heeb Meyers a 1-1 record with rugged Ridley Township next on the list here next Thursday night at Franklin field. The Spartans are also 1-1 after losing their opener to Ambler, 18-6.

A SHORT ADDITION TO BIG TOTAL—Pottstown's Howie Bedell picked up only five yards on this thrust through the line as he is brought down in the second quarter by Upper Merion's Bob Jones. The Spartans scored three touchdowns in the final half to win, 20-12. Other Pottstown players are Jack Babel, 74, Larry Lawler, 67, and Joe Kettew, on ground. The Spartans showing are Tom Toth, 67, Dick Nippif, 60, Otis Anderson, 68, John Kulpa, on ground. Bedell ran for a net total of 168 yards and scored one of Pottstown's TDs on a 75-yard jaunt.

Sunday Stock Car Matinees Return

Harry Moore, popular veteran from Pottstown, has displaced Quakertown's Dick Rodenberger in the runner-up position among All Stars Stock Car Racing Club point leaders.

Moore, whose maroon and white No. 71 has been a fixture in racing shows at Sanatoga Speedway for more than a half-decade, has leaped past Rodenberger by six markers and set his sights on leader Reds Leshner of Reading.

There is only a small possibility, however, that Moore will be able to outdistance Leshner to the wire as the season turns into it's final month. The redhead, a disappointment of late, has nonetheless managed to expand his command 101 points with a total take of 1188. Moore has 987 and Rodenberger 981.

Close behind the top three is Curt Sherman, another Reading entry, with 973.

Irv Seeders Bowls 278,723 In Majors; Builders Hit 3010

Some sizzling scores were turned in last night as the Pottstown Major league bowled its second matches of the season.

Irvin "Looney" Seeders tabbed a 278 game and wound up with a series of 723, high for the night. Gerald "Whitey" Rhoads trailed Seeders in both the single and triple department with a 257 and 684.

Despite their high total, the Builder Supply team was defeated by Erb's Truckers, 2-1. Richard's Builders topped Umstead Truckers, 3-0, and with Seeders leading the way. The Pottstown Owls tripped Carl Young's Distributors, 2-1.

Speed Is Rated Against Weight

Norco Opens Season Against Cols

Norco fields an unknown quantity tonight when it goes up against Collegeville at 8 o'clock in its first home game of the season.

The Cols already have one game under the belt, a 22-0 setback at the hands of Lower Merion the past week. This loss pointed up weaknesses in the defense which coach Bob Hackman has been trying to correct.

Al Brown, Norco mentor, feels that the Wildcats are still not quite ready, but hopes to stop Col speedsters Jerry Hefelfinger, Bill Yeagle, Tom Noland, and Fran McManus with a heavy line led by 200 pound tackle Larry McAfee and Jim Oleka, a 185 pound end.

Brown also figures to use John Mullen as center on the offense, Art Hughes and Don Lash as guards, Bob Hewitt at tackle, Chuck Foreman at the other terminal spot, Billy Root as defensive guard, and Bob Thomas in the line, probably as defensive tackle.

Others who will see action for the Cols on the defense are Al Rosser, guard, Benny Rhoades and Bob Bachman, halfbacks, and Joel Horvath, center.

The Wildcats, although not fast, will run from the T, but will mix it up with the single wing, with Dave Clemens, Bill Whitlach, Ron Domin, and Don Brower splitting the ball carrying assignments.

Clemens' passing has improved in the past week, and Clayton Yeager, a newcomer, shows speed, but not much football savvy as yet. Don Zelinae will see both offensive and defensive backfield duty for Norco, and Johnny Brown, 135 pound scatback, is a leading replacement.

Except for tackle Lou Palatella, out with a broken leg, the squad is in good condition.

Dawson will take his team into seclusion at a suburban hotel after tomorrow's workout.

Provided good weather prevails a crowd of 40,000 is expected. That would set an all time attendance record for the long series between the two old rivals.

Merrill Yocum and Bill Reiff, and Ray Litka gets the call at center.

With the speedy quartet of backs working from the T, the Cols will probably try to go outside the Norco stalwarts, or over their heads via McManus' aerial attack.

Bedell's 75-yard jaunt was the big play of the night for the Trojans. He took a handoff from Josh Soya and went through the left side of the line. He swerved back to his right as he found a lane that closed up behind him and he sped through. Once in the open he was unable to shake off Nippif who dogged his trail the final 50 yards. Howie veered back and forth and the Spartan end wasn't able to make a tackling bid although only three or four yards to the rear all the way.

The loss gives the Trojans of Coach Heeb Meyers a 1-1 record with rugged Ridley Township next on the list here next Thursday night at Franklin field. The Spartans are also 1-1 after losing their opener to Ambler, 18-6.

A SHORT ADDITION TO BIG TOTAL—Pottstown's Howie Bedell picked up only five yards on this thrust through the line as he is brought down in the second quarter by Upper Merion's Bob Jones. The Spartans scored three touchdowns in the final half to win, 20-12. Other Pottstown players are Jack Babel, 74, Larry Lawler, 67, and Joe Rettew, on ground. The Spartans showing are Tom Toth, 67, Dick Nippif, 60, Otis Anderson, 68, John Kulpa, on ground. Bedell ran for a net total of 168 yards and scored one of Pottstown's TDs on a 75-yard jaunt.

Sunday Stock Car Matinees Return

Harry Moore, popular veteran from Pottstown, has displaced Quakertown's Dick Rodenberger in the runner-up position among All Stars Stock Car Racing Club point leaders.

Moore, whose maroon and white No. 71 has been a fixture in racing shows at Sanatoga Speedway for more than a half-decade, has leaped past Rodenberger by six markers and set his sights on leader Reds Leshler of Reading. There is only a small possibility, however, that Moore will be able to outdistance Leshler to the wire as the season turns into its final month. The redhead, a disappointment of late, has nonetheless managed to expand his command 101 points with a total take of 1188. Moore has 987 and Rodenberger 981.

The standings taper sharply from there with Mose Moore (849), Monk Keller (804), Jim Ryan (671), Don Allison (577), Noot Reinert (554) and Bob Levensgood (505) rounding out the top ten.

Irv Seeders Bowls 278,723 In Majors; Builders Hit 3010

Some sizzling scores were turned in last night as the Pottstown Major league bowled its second matches of the season.

Irvin "Looney" Seeders tabbed a 278 game and wound up with a series of 723, high for the night. Gerald "Whites" Rhoads trailed Seeders in both the single and triple department with a 257 and 684.

Not only were the individual games outstanding but the team totals were very high also. Builder's Supplies average more than 200 per game by scoring a team triple of 3010. The Pottstown Owls won top honors for high team single with 1100, and the BS team was right behind with 1089.

Norco Opens Season Against Cols

Norco fields an unknown quantity tonight when it goes up against Collegeville at 8 o'clock in its first home game of the season.

The Cols already have one game under the belt, a 22-0 setback at the hands of Lower Merion last week. This loss pointed up weaknesses in the defense which coach Bob Hackman has been trying to correct.

Al Brown, Norco mentor, feels that the Wildcats are still not quite ready, but hopes to stop Col speedsters Jerry Hefelfinger, Bill Yeagle, Tom Noland, and Fran McManus with a heavy line led by 200 pound tackle Larry McAfee and Jim Olexa, a 185 pound end.

Brown also figures to use John Mullen as center on the offense. Art Hughes and Don Lash as guards, Bob Hewitt at tackle, Chuck Foreman at the other terminal spot, Billy Root as defensive guard, and Bob Thomas in the line, probably as defensive tackle.

Others who will see action for the Cols on the defense are Al Rosser, guard, Benny Rhoads and Bob Bachman, halfbacks, and Joel Horvath, center.

The Wildcats, although not fast, will run from the T, but will mix it up with the single wing, with Dave Clemens, Bill Whitlatch, Ron Domin, and Don Brower splitting the ball carrying assignments.

Clemens' passing has improved in the past week, and Clayton Yeager, a newcomer, shows speed, but not much football savvy as yet. Don Zelinae will see both offensive and defensive backfield duty for Norco, and Johnny Brown, 135 pound scatback, is a leading replacement.

So tonight's game winds up pitting an unknown quantity against an almost unknown quantity, and speed against weight. It should be interesting.

Except for tackle Lou Palatella, out with a broken leg, the squad is in good condition.

Dawson will take his team into seclusion at a suburban hotel after tomorrow's workout.

Provided good weather prevails, a crowd of 40,000 is expected. That would set an all time attendance record for the long series between the two old rivals.

Merrill Yocum and Bill Reiff, and Ray Litka gets the call at center.

With the speedy quartet of backs working from the T, the Cols will probably try to go outside the Norco stalwarts, or over their heads via McManus' aerial attack.

Bout Stopped in 11th

Marciano Halts LaStarza on TKO

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, crude and awkward in the early rounds, wore down Roland LaStarza with raw animal power to stop the game, blood-spattered challenger from the Bronx on a technical knockout in the 11th round tonight in the second defense of his world heavyweight championship.

Sliced around both eyes and bleeding from a cut on the bridge of his nose, the well-battered LaStarza took a tremendous beating in the last five rounds before referee Ruby Goldstein wisely stopped the slaughter.

LaStarza Battered But Poised in Defeat Offers No Alibis

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Roland LaStarza, bloody, beaten, but polite, sang the praises tonight of his conqueror, Rocky Marciano. "He's a great fighter," said LaStarza in his crowded, silent dressing room. "He's definitely a better fighter than when I fought him before—5000 percent better."

LaStarza, his right eye bleeding and swollen, his nose laced with a deep cut, spoke fluently within 15 minutes after the fight ended.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, the physician of the New York State Athletic commission, said the injury to LaStarza's left arm could be a dislocation.

"I asked him to use his left," said Dan Florio, his trainer, "but he couldn't do it. He said he was hurt."

RECAUSE of the injuries to LaStarza's eye and his arm, he was sent from the Polo grounds to St. Clare hospital.

"I'm sorry," said LaStarza humbly after the fight was over. "I honestly thought I could beat him, but he's a great fighter."

"He hurt me in the late rounds," said Dr. Nardiello came over to see what LaStarza needed in the way of repairs to his right eye, the suave heavyweight said "he really busted me up, didn't he, doc?"

It was a strange scene in the dressing room, ringed by policemen. LaStarza spoke with the greatest ease. There was no shouting or pushing, and at one point, when a question was asked that he couldn't hear, he said, as calmly as anyone might say it in a drawing room:

"I beg your pardon."

LaStarza discounted any efforts of those around him to credit Marciano's victories to foul tactics.

Asked about Marciano's low blow in the sixth round, LaStarza said: "The low blow didn't bother me. He was just too much for me."

AS FOR REPORTS that Marciano bullied him, LaStarza said stoutly:

"I wouldn't say he bullied me, no."

A stunning right-left-right barrage to the head earlier in the 11th round knocked LaStarza through the ropes and onto the ring apron. The determined City college student gamely pulled himself up at about the five-count to climb back through the ropes as the referee's count hit nine.

Groggy and obviously hurt after putting up a savage battle, LaStarza reeled into a neutral corner under another furious barrage from the Brockton, Mass. blockbuster, to bring Goldstein to the rescue.

But this was no cake walk for the 29-year-old champ who won his title from Jersey Joe Walcott just a year and a day ago. While he was able to stave off the Rock's heavy guns, Roland gave a splendid account of himself.

AT TIMES, LaStarza made the champ look like an amateur, flailing and floundering in his wild misses. Even in the 10th round, Marciano slipped down in Roland's own corner. It was no knockdown, merely a miss and slip.

This was no wornout Walcott with old age slowing his reflexes. The 26-year-old LaStarza shook off stunning punishment before he finally was forced to surrender with banners flying.

The officials had Marciano leading at the finish. Judge Harold Barnes saw it 5-5 at the end of 10 but he had Rocky ahead on points, 10-5.

Judge Arthur Susskind had Marciano out front 6-4 and referee Goldstein saw the champ leading 7-3. One of the rounds he lost, of course, was the sixth on a low blow.

THE BIG crowd of about 40,000 that turned out on a clear, cool night at the Polo grounds booed Rocky for his infractions. But they stayed to cheer him at the end as his booming power finally swung the issue.

Marciano at 185 pounds was his usual bull-dozer self.

There was no home television or authorized blow-by-blow radio account of the heavyweight title bout, first in New York in 24 years. Big crowds watched the fight on theater television in 43 theaters in 34 cities from coast to coast.

This was a rematch of a March 24, 1950 10-rounder when both fighters were unbeaten young prospects. Marciano won that battle on a split decision by a margin of three points. LaStarza claimed he really deserved the decision but was "ducked" for 3½ years.

Rocky's corner at the end of the round to warn him again.

The Rock came out for the eighth as though he meant to end it, chasing LaStarza around the ring with steady fire while his corner yelled "Keep on top of him" and "Bring it up."

LaStarza still was punching back in the 10th when Rocky appeared to be getting arm weary from the continuous attack. There was a suspicion that LaStarza's nose might have been broken.

A hook started Rolie on his way, then a terrific right to the head. The right-left-right combo dropped the dazed challenger on his back through the ropes.

LaStarza's handsome face was a gory mask as he gamely got up and continued the uneven struggle.

The crowd yelled "Stop it, stop it," but Goldstein let them mix again before he called an end.

Few gave LaStarza a chance. Many thought Ezzard Charles should have had the title shot when they first made the match. The Bronx butcher's son went into the ring a 4 to 1 underdog with the price 12 to 5 that he wouldn't last 15 rounds.

Marciano, still unbeaten in his glamorous career, now has 45 straight victories and 40 knockouts. It was the 10th successive time his opponent has failed to go the route.

Champ Unmarked After Fight

Rocky Changes Style for 11th Round Win Over LaStarza

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—"I was surprised at LaStarza's ability to stand up under his bombardment in the early rounds, but he never had done it."

Thus Rocky Marciano described his 11th round victory over rugged Roland LaStarza tonight to retain his heavyweight championship of the world.

"I had been going for the big punch—been throwing my overhand right."

About the sixth round I felt I was behind and I said to myself I'd better get going. So instead of throwing my right so much I concentrated on hooks and combination punches.

"That was the difference." Munching an orange and perfectly poised, the sweating champion sat on a table in his dressing room and described what he called "one of my toughest fights."

"I THOUGHT it was a left hook that sent him on his way. I landed it early in the 11th round to the head. That's what sent him through the ropes. Then I knew I had him."

The swarthy, muscled Brockton, Mass., shoemaker's son said he was surprised at LaStarza's ability to stand up under his bombardment in the early rounds, but he never had done it."

"I never hit him a blow as good as the one that got Walcott in Chicago. That was a honey of a punch—just traveled this far. I never had one blow as good to-night."

Marciano said LaStarza could take more punishment than any man he had ever met.

"I told him after the fight that he put up a swell fight," the bronzed champion said.

"He told me 'Rocky, I think you'll be our greatest heavyweight champion.'"

The champion said LaStarza gave him a lot of trouble in the early rounds with his defensive tactics.

"He was holding me off pretty good," Marciano said. "He never hurt me once but he was doing a good job of counter-punching and keeping away from my right hand."

"I was afraid I was behind when I decided to speed up—about the seventh round."

"HE NEVER hit me once to really hurt me. He caught me in the fourth round with a right and couldn't stop it."

"Rocky will fight next year," Weill said. "I don't mean he'll wait a year to fight, but he won't fight again this year."

"I think Ezzard Charles deserves the next chance. That is, if he wins a couple of good fights to prove his worth for a shot at the title."

Somebody asked Rocky if after he had opened a gash over LaStarza's eye in the second round, he tried to aggravate the wound.

"No, I didn't," the champion said. "I don't go for blood."

"I don't like to cut a man up," he said. "I was unintentional when he butted LaStarza in the second round and, speaking of hitting the challenger later after the bell had rung, the champion explained:

"I had a left hook on the way and couldn't stop it."

Marciano Halts LaStarza on TKO

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, crude and awkward in the early rounds, wore down Roland LaStarza with raw animal power to stop the game, blood-spattered challenger from the Bronx on a technical knockout in the 11th round tonight in the second defense of his world heavyweight championship.

Sliced around both eyes and bleeding from a cut on the bridge of his nose, the well-battered LaStarza took a tremendous beating in the last five rounds before referee Ruby Goldstein wisely stopped the slaughter.

LaStarza Battered But Poised in Defeat Offers No Alibis

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Roland LaStarza, bloody, beaten, but polite, sung the praises tonight of his conqueror, Rocky Marciano. "He's a great fighter," said Roland in his crowded, silent dressing room. "He's definitely a better fighter than when I fought him before—5000 percent better."

LaStarza, his right eye bleeding and swollen, his nose laced with a deep cut, spoke fluently within 15 minutes after the fight ended.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, the physician of the New York State Athletic commission, said the injury to LaStarza's left arm could be a dislocation.

"I asked him to use his left," said Dan Florio, his trainer, "but he couldn't do it. He said he was hurt."

BECAUSE of the injuries to LaStarza's eye and his arm, he was sent from the Polo grounds to St. Clare hospital.

"I'm sorry," said LaStarza humbly after the fight was over. "I honestly thought I could beat him, but he's a great fighter."

"He hurt me in the late rounds," When Dr. Nardiello came over to see what LaStarza needed in the way of repairs to his right eye, the saute heavyweight said "he really busted me up, didn't he, doc?"

It was a strange scene in the dressing room, ringed by policemen. LaStarza spoke with the greatest ease. There was no shouting or pushing, and at one point, when a question was asked that he couldn't hear, he said, as calmly as anyone might say it in a drawing room:

"I beg your pardon."

LaStarza discounted any efforts of those around him to credit Marciano's victories to foul tactics.

Asked about Marciano's low blow in the sixth round, LaStarza said: "The low blow didn't bother me. He was just too much for me."

AS FOR REPORTS that Marciano butted him, LaStarza said stoutly:

"I wouldn't say he butted me, no."

"The punch after the bell didn't affect me," he added.

Bearettes Defeat Collegeville, 4-2

Led by Gloria Fleming's two field goals, Boyertown High hockey team defeated Collegeville High, 4-2, yesterday afternoon as the two squads opened their seasons.

Helping Miss Fleming in the Boyertown scoring column were Roseann Drabinski and Margaret Eisenhart, Margie Moyer and Miss Lediard tallied the Co's' goals.

In the jayvee game, the host Collegeville girls defeated the little Bearettes, 2-1.

A stunning right-left-right barrage to the head earlier in the 11th round knocked LaStarza through the ropes and onto the power to stop the game, blood-spattered challenger from the Bronx on a technical knockout in the 11th round tonight in the second defense of his world heavyweight championship.

Groggy and obviously hurt after putting up a savage battle, LaStarza reeled into a neutral corner under another furious barrage from the Brockton, Mass. block-buster, to bring Goldstein to the rescue.

But this was no cake walk for the 29-year-old champ who won his title from Jersey Joe Walcott just a year and a day ago. While he was able to stave off the Rock's heavy guns, Roland gave a splendid account of himself.

AT TIMES, LaStarza made the champ look like an amateur, flailing and floundering in his wild misses. Even in the 10th round, Marciano slipped down in Roland's own corner. It was no knockdown, merely a miss and slip.

Goldstein had to warn Marciano repeatedly for infractions of the rules, taking away the sixth round for a low left hook. He drew other warnings for a butt in the second, when LaStarza's right eye was cut, hitting on the break in the second, and again in the seventh for a low left that landed near the borderline.

This was no wornout Walcott with old age slowing his reflexes. The 26-year-old LaStarza shook off stunning punishment before he finally was forced to surrender with Banners flying.

The officials had Marciano leading at the finish. Judge Harold Barnes saw it 5-5 at the end of 10. But he had Rocky ahead on points, 10-5.

Judge Arthur Susskind had Marciano out front 6-4 and referee Goldstein saw the champ leading 7-3. One of the rounds he lost, of course, was the sixth on a low blow.

THE BIG crowd of about 40,000 that turned out on a clear, cool night at the Polo grounds booed Rocky for his infractions. But they stayed to cheer him at the end as his booming power finally swung the issue.

Marciano at 185 pounds was his usual bull-dozing self.

There was no home television or authorized blow-by-blow radio account of the heavyweight title bout, first in New York in 2½ years. Big crowds watched the fight on theater television in 45 theaters in 34 cities from coast to coast.

This was a rematch of a March 24, 1950 10-rounder when both fighters were unbeaten young prospects. Marciano won that battle on a split decision by a margin of three points. LaStarza claimed he really deserved the decision but was "ducked" for 3½ years. He talked a great fight in training camp and fought it in the ring too.

LaStarza's corner screamed protests at Marciano's low blows. Trainer Dan Florio yelled at the referee twice in the seventh when Rocky slammed two hard punches to the body. The referee went to the body.

Miss Luft Paces Norco in Hockey

Three field goals by Marilyn Luft in the first half go the North Coventry High girls hockey team off to a fast start in a 6-3 win over Roversford High girls.

Miss Luft added another in the second half and Joyce Richards chipped in with two to give the Norcos a wide advantage. Miss Gillette, Miss Sweeney and Lin Richards tabbed goals for the losers.

Rocky's corner at the end of the round to warn him again.

The seventh was the first of Rocky's big rounds. A stunning right to the head jarred the challenger when he was caught in a neutral corner.

The Rock came out for the eighth as though he meant to end it, chasing LaStarza around the ring with steady fire while his corner yelled "Keep on top of him" and "Bring it up."

Early in the ninth a smashing right to the jaw dazed LaStarza. A clubbing hook to the chin drove him into a neutral corner. Blood trickled from Rolli's mouth but he covered up and threw punches, trying to stave off the inevitable.

LaStarza still was punching back in the 10th when Rocky appeared to be getting arm weary from the continuous attack. There was a suspicion that LaStarza's nose might have been broken.

Winging at full steam out of a crouch and later standing up straight to throw long punches from right field, Marciano came out to end it in the 11th. A hook started Rolli on his way, then a terrific right to the head. The right-left-right combo dropped the dazed challenger on his back through the ropes.

LaStarza's handsome face was a gory mask as he gamely got up and continued the uneven struggle. The crowd yelled "Stop it, stop it," but Goldstein let them mix again before he called an end.

Few gave LaStarza a chance. Many thought Ezzard Charles should have had the title shot when they first made the match. The Bronx butcher's son went into the ring a 4 to 1 underdog with the price 12 to 5 that he wouldn't last 15 rounds.

Marciano, still unbeaten in his glamorous career, now has 45 straight victories and 40 knockouts. It was the 10th successive time his opponent has failed to go the route.

Irish-Sooner TV Battle Rages On

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—The U.S. Justice department stepped into the fuss over restricted television of the Oklahoma-Notre Dame football game today, but there were indications the National Collegiate Athletic association would not back down in its stand.

The NCAA television director, Asa Bushnell, announced members of the TV committee were being polled on whether they would permit a second station, KOTV in Tulsa, to offer the game to Northeastern Oklahoma fans.

This was done, he said, at the request of University of Oklahoma regents, who had urged in a resolution that Tulsa be declared a "home station" for the occasion. PERMISSION already had been granted to station WKY-TV in Oklahoma City to telecast the game over local facilities. This is in accordance with NCAA TV policies which permit one station to carry a game locally if it is a sellout.

The Notre Dame-Oklahoma tilt at Norman, Okla., is a sellout. The week's nationally televised game under the NCAA restricted program is that between Holy Cross and Dartmouth at Lynn, Mass. Numerous state officials have urged unrestricted television of the game throughout Oklahoma.

A spokesman said in Washington today that the Justice department had stepped into the situation but he declined to say what sort of interpretation had been made. All queries were referred to the NCAA.

Champ Unmarked After Fight

Rocky Changes Style for 11th Round Win Over LaStarza

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—"I was surprised at LaStarza's ability to stand up under his bombardment in the early rounds, but he never have done it."

Thus Rocky Marciano described his 11th round victory over rugged Roland LaStarza tonight to retain his heavyweight championship of the world.

"I had been going for the big punch—been throwing my overhand right."

"About the sixth round I felt I was behind and I said to myself I'd better get going. So instead of throwing my right so much I concentrated on hooks and combination punches."

"That was the difference." Munching an orange and perfectly poised, the sweating champion sat on a table in his dressing room and described what he called "one of my toughest fights."

"I THOUGHT it was a left hook that sent him on his way. I landed it early in the 11th round to the head. That's what sent him through the ropes. Then I knew I had him."

The swarthy, muscled Brockton, Mass., shoemaker's son said he was surprised at LaStarza's ability to stand up under his bombardment in the early rounds, but he added:

"I never hit him a blow as good as the one that got Walcott in Chicago. That was a honey of a punch—that traveled this far. I never had one blow as good tonight."

Marciano said LaStarza could take more punishment than any man he had ever met.

"I told him after the fight that he put up a swell fight," the bronzed champion said. "He told me 'Rocky, I think you'll be our greatest heavyweight champion'."

The champion said LaStarza gave him a lot of trouble in the early rounds with his defensive tactics.

"He was holding me off pretty good," Marciano said. "He never hurt me once but he was doing a good job of counter-punching and keeping away from my right hand."

"I was afraid I was behind when I decided to speed up—about the seventh round."

"HE NEVER hit me once to really hurt me. He caught me about the fourth round with a right that jarred me a little. But that was all."

The sleek, bronzed champion was unmarked. He was completely relaxed and not even breathing hard as newsmen pressed around him with a bombardment of questions and photo bulbs flashed.

At Marciano's left elbow was his chunky little manager, Al Weill, who seemed to enjoy holding court. "Rocky will fight next year," Weill said. "I don't mean he'll wait a year to fight, but he won't fight again this year."

"I think Ezzard Charles deserves the next chance. That is, if he wins a couple of good fights to prove his worth for a shot at the title."

Somebody asked Rocky if after he had opened a gash over LaStarza's eye in the second round, he tried to aggravate the wound. "No, I didn't," the champion said. "I don't go for blood."

"I don't like to cut a man up," He said it was unintentional when he butted LaStarza in the second round and, speaking of hitting the challenger later after the bell had rung, the champion explained:

"I had a left hook on the way and couldn't stop it."

TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES HARM AS TREE FALLS

Traffic Is Detoured On Route 100 for One Hour

MISHAP OCCURS AS VEHICLE TURNS TO AVOID WORKERS

A 40-foot maple tree that toppled onto the cab of a tractor trailer in Pughtown yesterday morning forced Route 100 traffic to detour for more than an hour.

Harold Eidell, 24, of 126 Scheaffer street, Boyertown, said he was driving south on the highway, which is the scene of heavy construction work in widening the road.

In front of the home of Ronald B. Read, he said, he had to pull his tractor trailer to the right to avoid hitting workmen near the center of the road.

The right front of the van caught the big, rotten tree at the point where it projects over the edge of the highway.

"I saw the limbs coming," Eidell said, "and I shut my eyes. I didn't know where it was coming through."

BIG TREE limbs put a deep crease in the top of the cab, but Eidell escaped injury. Further damage was done to the cab as a power shovel removed the tree from the cab.

While the tree was being removed, traffic detoured on Route 23 and on rural roads west of Pughtown.

"The tree was pretty rotten. It should have come down a long time ago," the trucker declared Mrs. Read agreed.

—Mercury Staff Photo

In avoiding men working on widening the highway, he pulled the truck to the right.

The trailer caught the big, rotten tree. The cab was creased.

Traffic was detoured for more than an hour.

Thief Gets Medals For Safecracking

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 24 (AP)—A thief here got some medals for his skill in safecracking.

He spent some time and effort to open a safe at the Love Chemical company. The medals? About two dozen track medals belonging to the company president's son. No money.

And he wasn't so skillful after all. He could have opened the safe with a single turn of the handle. It was unlocked.

Fire Chief Needs Help From Neighbor

JACKSONVILLE, N. C., Sept. 24 (AP)—It wouldn't have been quite so embarrassing if it had happened to anybody but a fire chief.

R. O. Wrenn, in charge of the fire fighters at the nearby Camp Lejeune Marine base, was putting up screens at his home here. Standing on the porch roof, he snapped the last screen firmly into place.

Then he realized he couldn't get back into the house, and the ground was a long jump down.

A neighbor—a woman, at that—came to the rescue with a ladder.

UN School Program Planned for Refugees

AMMAN, Jordan, Sept. 24 (AP)—The United Nations has started a vast program to teach the three Rs to children of around half a million Arab refugees now in Jordan. The program has been set by the United Nations Relief and Work Agency (UNRWA). The UN agency is in charge of the welfare of refugees who fled the Palestine war in 1948.

At present plans call for primary education only during this coming year. UNRWA officials here estimate the most urgent task is to prevent thousands of refugee children from growing up as illiterates.

Widow Awaits Decision Of Hearing by State

The death of a State compensation referee yesterday morning complicated the case of a Pottstown area man whose widow is trying to retain benefits arising from her husband's death while he was a prison guard.

Mrs. Lizzy Mack, 326 Walnut street, Spring City, claims that her husband, William D. Mack, 34, was killed as the result of injuries suffered during a tussle with an unruly prisoner on Jan. 17, 1950, while he was a guard at Eastern penitentiary in Graterford.

During the tussle, she said, he was kicked in the chest. As a result, he suffered frequent pains in the chest and died a year and three months after the injury.

The Workmen's Compensation bureau referee, A. Harry Clayton, Doylestown, who died yesterday, awarded Mack compensation for a period of 300 weeks.

WHILE HE lived, Mack got the maximum of $25 a week, the bureau reported yesterday. Following his death, his widow got $15 a week, which would continue for the remainder of the 300 weeks.

The State appealed the ruling, and a hearing was held the past July. A spokesman for the bureau's Philadelphia office said no decision has been released by the bureau.

Mack served three and one-half years with the Army in Europe, his wife recalled, and he took part in the invasion of France and the Battle of the Bulge.

After he came out of the service, he worked for Firestone Tire and Rubber company. His wife said he left Firestone because of poor health, then took the job at the penitentiary.

Representing Mrs. Mack in fighting the State's appeal are Raymond Pearlstone, Norristown attorney, and David Ullman, Philadelphia attorney.

car drove in for 'gas', and the windows looked steamed up.

"I went to wipe off the back window and instead of steam it was solid ice," he said. "It was thick ice, too."

Wampole remarked that the cold snap already has promoted some sales of radiator antifreeze at the service station.

Pat Carl, owner of another service station at Parkerford, reported that temperatures there were down in the 30s yesterday morning. He too, scraped ice from some windshields.

Mrs. Mildred Liss, Pruss Hill, said her thermometer went down to a freezing 28 early in the morning.

Other residents said the sun rose in a ruddy glow yesterday, with fog moving in after 7:30 a. m. It appeared thickest in Hanover Heights. Pottstown itself was just hazy.

Warmer weather may come in with the weekend, it appears. Today's high may be a warm 78. Tomorrow will be cloudy and mild.

Traffic Is Detoured
On Route 100 for One Hour

MISHAP OCCURS AS VEHICLE TURNS TO AVOID WORKERS

A 40-foot maple tree that toppled onto the cab of a tractor trailer in Pughtown yesterday morning forced Route 100 traffic to detour for more than an hour.

Harold Eidell, 24, of 126 Scheaf, fer street, Boyertown, said he was driving south on the highway, which is the scene of heavy construction work in widening the road.

In front of the home of Ronald B. Read, he said, he had to pull his tractor trailer to the right to avoid hitting workmen near the center of the road.

"It was either run over them or get close to the tree," he asserted. "They wouldn't move."

The right front of the van caught the big, rotten tree at the point where it projects over the edge of the highway.

BIG TREE limbs put a deep crease in the top of the cab, but Eidell escaped injury. Further damage was done to the cab as a power shovel removed the tree from the cab.

While the tree was being removed, traffic detoured on Route 23 and on rural roads west of Pughtown.

"The tree was pretty rotten. It should have come down a long time ago," the trucker declared. Mrs. Read agreed.

Thief Gets Medals For Safecracking

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 24 — A thief here got some medals for his skill in safecracking.

He spent some time and effort to open a safe at the Love Chemical company. The medals? About two dozen truck medals belonging to the company president's son. No money.

And he wasn't so skillful after all. He could have opened the safe with a single turn of the handle. It was unlocked.

Fire Chief Needs Help From Neighbor

JACKSONVILLE, N. C., Sept. 24 — It wouldn't have been quite so embarrassing if it had happened to anybody but a fire chief.

R. O. Wrenn, in charge of the fire fighters at the nearby Camp Lejeune Marine base, was putting up screens at his home here. Standing on the porch roof, he snapped the last screen firmly into place.

Then he realized he couldn't get back into the house, and the ground was a long jump down.

UN School Program Planned for Refugees

AMMAN, Jordan, Sept. 24 — The United Nations has started a vast program to teach the three Rs to children of around half a million Arab refugees now in Jordan. The program has been set by the United Nations Relief and Work Agency (UNRWA). The UN agency is in charge of the welfare of refugees who fled the Palestine war in 1948.

At present plans call for primary education only during this coming year. UNRWA officials here estimate the most urgent task is to prevent thousands of refugee children to grow up as illiterates.

Harold Eidell (far left) surveys the close escape he had when this big tree fell atop the cab of his tractor trailer on Route 100 in Pughtown yesterday shortly after 9 a. m.

In avoiding men working on widening the highway, he pulled the truck to the right.

The trailer caught the big, rotten tree. The cab was creased.

School Board Okays Naming of Teacher To West Pottsgrove

Lawrence John, for three years a teacher and coach at Coatesville Junior High school, has been named teacher of physical education and basketball and baseball coach at West Pottsgrove High school.

His appointment was approved by the school board last night, although he began his teaching and coaching duties at the beginning of the school year.

The board granted children in grades three and six one hour a week free from classes to attend the church of their choice. Churches co-operating in the program are St. Gabriel's Catholic church, St. Peter's Lutheran church and Brethren in Christ church.

Anthony Cancelliere was named attendance officer for the school year.

OFFICIAL DIES; BENEFIT CASE RUNS INTO SNAG

Widow Awaits Decision Of Hearing by State

The death of a State compensation referee yesterday morning complicated the case of a Pottstown area man whose widow is trying to retain benefits arising from her husband's death while he was a prison guard.

Mrs. Lizzy Mack, 326 Walnut street, Spring City, claims that her husband, William D. Mack, 34, was killed as the result of injuries suffered during a tussle with an unruly prisoner on Jan. 17, 1950, while he was a guard at Eastern penitentiary in Graterford.

During the tussle, she said, he was kicked in the chest. As a result, he suffered frequent pains in the chest and died a year and three months after the injury.

The Workmen's Compensation bureau referee, A. Harry Clayton, Doylestown, who died yesterday, awarded Mack compensation for a period of 300 weeks.

WHILE HE lived, Mack got the maximum of $25 a week, the bureau reported yesterday. Following his death, his widow got $15 a week, which would continue for the remainder of the 300 weeks.

The State appealed the ruling, and a hearing was held the past July. A spokesman for the bureau's Philadelphia office said no decision has been released by the bureau.

Mack served three and one-half years with the Army in Europe, his wife recalled, and he took part in the invasion of France and the Battle of the Bulge.

After he came out of the service, he worked for Firestone Tire and Rubber company. His wife said he left Firestone because of poor health, then took the job at the penitentiary.

Representing Mrs. Mack in fighting the State's appeal are Raymond Pearlstein, Norristown attorney, and David Ullman, Philadelphia attorney.

Group Maps Plans For Observance of Fire Prevention

The stage is set for Pottstown's observance of Fire Prevention Week, from Oct. 4 to 11.

It was set yesterday by the fire prevention committee, headed by Joseph A. Kelly Jr.

There will be some changes on the borough observance this year.

Fire drills will be held at the elementary and parochial school (two each day) at which time literature on fire prevention will be passed out to children.

Equipment from borough fire companies will be on hand at the drills. Fire prevention literature will be in the form of comics with an eye on child appeal.

On Tuesday, Oct. 6, spot inspections of High street buildings will be made by borough fire inspectors and men from the Middle Department association of Fire-underwriters.

Present at yesterday's noon session at the Hanover House were Kelly, Borough Chief Richard E. Lindauer, Frank Rowe, John B. Hartenstein Jr., Dr. G. A. McCormick and Ray Thompson, local manager of the Middle department.

The committee will meet again next Thursday.

FROST APPEARS —

car drove in for 'gas', and the windows looked steamed up. "I went to wipe off the back window and instead of steam it was solid ice," he said. "It was thick ice, too."

Wampole remarked that the cold snap already has promoted some sales of radiator antifreeze at the service station.

Pat Carl, owner of another service station at Parkerford, reported that temperatures there were down in the 30s yesterday morning. He too, scraped ice from some windshields.

Mrs. Mildred Liss, Pruss Hill, said her thermometer went down to a freezing 28 early in the morning.

Other residents said the sun rose in a ruddy glow yesterday, with fog moving in after 7:30 a. m. It appeared thickest in Hanover Heights. Pottstown itself was just hazy.

Warmer weather may come in with the weekend, it appears. Today's high may be a warm 78. Tomorrow will be cloudy and mild.
